

VOL. 9, NO. 229.

CONNELLSVILLE, PA., SATURDAY EVEN'G., AUGUST 5, 1911.

EIGHT PAGES.

WILLIAM SUTTON KILLED BY SON.

Former Well Known Union-town Man Shot Down Early This Morning.

BOY MADE HIS ESCAPE

Family Had Been Living in Philadelphia Since Last Fall—The Son, Reymor, is 17 Years Old—Family Had Much Trouble.

The police of Connellsville and Uniontown this morning received telegrams from Chief of Police Tim O'Leary of Philadelphia asking them to be on the lookout for Reymor Sutton, aged 17 years, who early this morning or last night shot his father, William Sutton, formerly of Uniontown. Sutton died in a Philadelphia hospital this morning from the wound inflicted by his son.

William Sutton lived practically all his life in Uniontown. He moved to Philadelphia last fall. Prior to that time he had been managing the operations of an oil company in Texas in which a number of Fayette county people are interested. After his return from Texas Sutton moved to Philadelphia. It is not known what he had been following there.

The Philadelphia authorities think the boy possibly headed in this direction after the shooting. They asked the Uniontown police to be on the lookout for him at the home of his grandfather, George W. Grimes, of Uniontown.

No particulars had been learned up to noon at Uniontown of Sutton's murder. His relatives there had a telegram stating that he had died in the hospital as the result of a bullet wound inflicted by his son Reymor. Whether or not a quarrel had preceded the shooting is not known.

William Sutton was about 10 or 15 years old. He is a brother of Al Sutton, well known in Fayette county politics. A month ago a baby of the Suttons was scalded to death at their Philadelphia home. The boy who did the shooting is rather heavy for his age, weighing about 110 pounds and is nervous and excitable in his manner.

United Press Telegram.
PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 5.—Shot in the abdomen by his 17 year old son after he had abused the boy's mother and threatened him with a razor in their home here, William Sutton, 45 years old, died in the Presbyterian hospital today after lingering for several hours.

The son, Reymor, is a fugitive, and the mother is prostrated. Grieving over the death of his two year old son, Charles, who was scalded to death two months ago, Sutton sought refuge in liquor. He returned home intoxicated late last night and began abusing his wife. The boy interfered and the father turned upon him. The shooting followed.

Sutton, his wife and son, came from Uniontown, Pa., to this city about eight months ago. He is well known in Western Pennsylvania as an oil man.

Blondon Punched Bill Bunnell's Ear

Echoes of the recent celebration were heard last evening at the office of Squire P. M. Buttermore in the West Side when Leon Blondon appeared before the Squire to answer a charge of assault and battery. The information was made by William Bunnell of Leisenring No. 1 and the arrest was made by Constable R. A. Stillwagon. On last Thursday the men were pitching rings on North Pittsburg street and got into an argument. One word brought on another and finally they left the tent and went around on a back street where it was alleged by the prosecutor, Blondon struck him below the left ear and knocked him down.

Blondon was taken to Uniontown this morning by Constable Stillwagon and committed to jail pending the action of the Grand Jury at the September term of court.

Committee Will Report on Monday

The Executive Committee of the Third Class City Celebration have about completed their report. A few bills are still out. These will come in today. A meeting will be held tomorrow, when the report will be finished. Enough funds were collected to meet all expenses, with a small surplus remaining.

New York Central May Build Link From Connellsville Down Into Virginia.

While the officials of the Pittsburg & Lake Erie railroad, a subsidiary of the New York Central, were non-committal yesterday, the old rumor that the Vanderbilt road will acquire the Virginian railroad seems to be well founded, and from advice would soon be an accomplished fact. When the extension of the Western Maryland railroad is completed to Connellsville, which is expected to be by December 1 of this year, it is surmised that the New York Central may build a connecting link to reach the Virginian from Connellsville or Ohio, down through West Virginia and Virginia to Norfolk, Va.

The Coal & Coke railroad is also mentioned in the proposed deal. It is thought that it also will be purchased by the New York Central. This road is 175 miles long and connects at Roaring Creek Junction, near Elkton, W. Va., with the Western Maryland, running from that point to Charleston, W. Va., on the Kanawha river. The Virginian begins at Deepwater, W. Va., on the same river, and about 30 miles south of the route followed by the Coal & Coke to Charleston. The Virginian, which was built by H. H. Rodgers, was a great railroad mystery at the time of its construction. All bills were paid in cash and the owner was not known until the construction was completed. The Vanderbilt road has been interested in the Virginian ever since its completion, the former road having become associated with the Western Maryland for an entrance into Baltimore, Md. It can go a step farther and reach Norfolk with comparatively little construction work.

S. R. Brough Transferred to Pittsburg; R.D. Morris New Water Superintendent.

S. R. Brough, who has been superintendent of the Connellsville Water Company for about a year past, has been transferred to the Pittsburg office of the American Water & Gas Company. Mr. Brough will be succeeded by R. D. Morris, an old employee of the American Water Company. He will assume charge of the Connellsville plant the first of the week. Mr. Brough goes to Pittsburg to take a higher position with the company. Personally he has made many friends during his residence in this city, and his superiors have rewarded his management of the company's affairs here with a promotion.

Street Car Strike is On at Des Moines

United Press Telegram.
DES MOINES, Ia., Aug. 5.—Awed by 5,000 men and boys who burned General Manager Harrigan of the street car company in oil because he refused to arbitrate with his 500 car men who struck at 1.15 this morning the 300 strike breakers under Lewis Christensen made no effort to run cars up to 8 o'clock today, and there are rumors that Harrigan will make terms with the union.

Thousands of people cheered the union men as they brought in their cars from the last trip. Then the crowd chanted "different" hotels where the strike breakers were quartered, crowding the lobbies and peering the police who tried to disperse them.

After burning Harrigan in office, the mob made a charge on the Kirkwood Hotel in search of Christensen, but failed to find him there. During the rioting half a dozen street cars were destroyed and two detectives were hit with flying rocks.

Harrigan agreed to arbitrate the question, which he had hitherto refused to do, provided John Hatt, who was discharged for insubordination, was left out of the issue. The strikers agreed provided Inspector Wallace Hatten who made the charges against Hatt should be discharged. Harrigan refused this and negotiations ceased.

Murder Mystery Baffles the Police

United Press Telegram.
CINCINNATI, O., Aug. 5.—With every missing woman in Cincinnati and vicinity reported to the police within the last few months accounted for, the finding of the headless body of a white woman in the Bloody Run sewer has developed into a puzzling mystery.

The headless corpse was found by four boys, who walked through the big sewer early yesterday morning. Terror seized their lips until yesterday evening, when one of the boys told his father what they had seen, when the coroner and police were notified.

Early today a search for the missing head was commenced. The big sewer is being scrutinized by the Norwood and Cincinnati police with lanterns and preparations are being made to drag the big pools at each end of the immense drain.

Roland Lands a Cook.
The West Side Camping Club has at last secured a cook by the name of Thomas Black. Fearing that he would not arrive safe at the camp at Guard, Md., Constable William Roland accompanied him on B. & O. train No. 48 this morning. Constable Roland will remain with the campers.

Home From the East.
Dave Cohen, the North Pittsburg street tailor, has arrived home from New York, where he spent several weeks looking over the fall styles in men's clothing and making purchases of a complete line of fall and winter goods.

Duquesne Late.
The Duquesne Limited was over an hour late in arriving in town this morning owing to washouts east of Baltimore.

MRS. RUTH KERNS DIES SUDDENLY.

Wife of John Kerns, a Veteran Balto. & Ohio Railroad Man.

HAD BEEN ILL TWO WEEKS

Suffering from Heart Trouble But Condition Was Not Considered Serious. Dropped Dead Shortly After Eating Dinner Yesterday.

About an hour after partaking of her noonday meal yesterday, Mrs. Frances Kerns, wife of John Kerns, a retired B. & O. engineer, fell over dead at the home of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John B. Kerns, on Duna street. Mrs. Kerns has been under the care of a physician for heart trouble for the past two weeks and yesterday morning the attending physician called to see Mrs. Kerns and found her condition no worse than usual. Mrs. Kerns ate heartily and after partaking of her meal she went out on the porch and sat down for a short time. She returned to the living room and just as she was about to lie down on the couch she fell over dead. Life was extinguished when the members of her family reached her.

Mrs. Kerns was aged 53 years, 11 months and 27 days. She was a daughter of Albert and Margaret McDowell and was born in Uniontown August 8, 1852. She was married in Uniontown to John Kerns and 25 years ago they came to Connellsville to reside. Before her marriage Mrs. Kerns spent several years of her life in Dunbar. She was a member of the Methodist Protestant Church and of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers. Mrs. Kerns and her husband and daughter, Miss Josie, and son, George, resided with Mr. and Mrs. John B. Kerns, Jr., on Elm street. In addition to her husband and the children already named, she is survived by the following children: Robert Kerns, Greenburg; Harry Kerns, Pittsburg; Mrs. Myrtle Gribble, Fairbairn; Mrs. Robert Orbaugh, New York; Mrs. Louella Gallagher, Oakland, Md. She is also survived by the following sisters: Mrs. Daniel Mong, Homestead; Mrs. C. M. Brooks, Cumberland; and Miss Alice McDowell of Thomas, W. Va. About two weeks ago Mrs. Kerns arrived home from a visit with her daughter, Mrs. Orbaugh, of New York.

Funeral from the home at 1.30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. Services at the Methodist Protestant Church at 2 o'clock. Rev. R. E. Cairns, the pastor, assisted by Rev. D. E. Miner of Dunbar, will officiate. Interment in Hill Grove cemetery.

Col. Greene Dies in West

United Press Telegram.
NACO, Ariz., Aug. 5.—Colonel W. C. Greene, the noted millionaire copper mine operator, died at his home in Cananea, Mexico, today following an attack of acute pneumonia. He was recently injured in a runaway, several ribs being fractured.

Colonel Greene was born in Westchester county, N. Y., in 1851 but went West at an early age. Several years ago Col. Greene figured conspicuously in the newspapers in a controversy with Thomas W. Lawson. Greene was at one time head of the Greene Cananea Copper Company and held large concessions in Mexico.

Home From Fishing Trip.
B. R. Hott, cashier of the Youth National Bank and W. R. Long, who have been fishing in Muskoka Lake, Canada, for the past two weeks arrived home this morning, bringing with them over 175 pounds of fish, each fish averaging about 2½ pounds.

The Weather Bulletin.
Unsettled tonight and Sunday, not much change in temperature in the noon weather bulletin.

Out of the Hospital.
B. & O. Engineer William Bradley, who was operated on several weeks ago at the Cottage State hospital, was discharged from that institution this morning greatly improved.

Schedule That Has Been Submitted for Lynch Cup Games in the H. C. Frick Coke Company League.

The schedule given below is one that has practically been decided upon by the Executive Committee of the Frick League of baseball clubs. There will possibly be changes in it where the Scottline-Everson team and the Lemont team are scheduled. It is possible that these two teams will be beaten out by others in their respective divisions as a result of the games to be played this evening and by the decisions of protests on forfeited

An Education in a Single Volume Contained in Courier Dictionary.

Home study has been discussed and advertised extensively during the past few years. Various methods and means have been introduced, but The Courier believes that the best self secured education obtainable in the English language and general information upon a most economical basis is offered in the Courier Webster's New Standard Dictionary Illustrated.

The Courier offers you in one volume, bound between handsome leather covers, a complete education in the English language, an abundant opportunity of increasing your vocabulary, studying simplified spelling and much other useful information for six cents clipped from consecutive issues of this paper and a small expense bonus.

Commercially speaking, the purchase of this leather-bound volume means that you are getting $4.00 for 80c, but, generally speaking, it is impossible to estimate the value such a course of at-your-elbow education may be to you.

There are three styles of books, but the limp leather volume seems to have the call. The other two books are as good dictionaries in cheaper bindings. The big little book is always at the elbow of those anxious and willing to learn. There can be but one result of the awakening of those who by sloth and misunderstanding had lost the approval of their employers.

If you doubt the truth of the interest awakened in the dictionary come to the Dictionary Department and be convinced. Get a dictionary.

Company D Men Receive Their Pay

In less than a week's time after the closing of the encampment of the Tenth regiment at Indiana, Pa., Captain A. R. Kidd of Company D received a warrant for the pay of the men of Company D. The warrant was received from the Auditor General last night. The pay amounts to $598.10. The money will be issued to the soldiers as soon as all State property has been returned. At the encampment Company D was represented by 58 enlisted men and three officers. Out of the 58, 23 will receive no pay on account of not being qualified marksmen.

The salary received by the company per day is as follows: Captain, $6.67; First Lieutenant, $5.50; Second Lieutenant, $4.72; First Sergeant, $3.00; other sergeants, $2.00; corporals, $1.75; camp cook, $2.00; artificer, $1.75; privates, $1.50.

During the months of August and September drills will be suspended, but will be resumed in October. In that time any members of the company are at liberty to keep up their rifle practice and camp over-see Clyde Lohman will be on hand at all times. Those who have not as yet become qualified marksmen are especially requested to keep up their rifle practice.

Mrs. Dorothy Ryan Dies at Lemont

Mrs. Dorothy Ryan died last night at the home of her sister, Mrs. M. B. Bailey, at Lemont, aged 55 years and ten months. Mrs. Ryan was widely known in Dunbar township, where she resided for 26 years. She was the wife of James Ryan, who died 20 years ago, ten years after he came with his family to this country from England.

Mrs. Ryan was born in County Durham, England, October 30, 1856. Practically all of her life in this country was spent in Dunbar township. The past four years up to a short time ago she lived with her son, Joseph Ryan, at Marlana, Pa. Eight children survive, as follows: Mrs. Jacob Trump, Connellsville; Mrs. John Conway, Drier Hill; Miss Lizzie and Jennie, Pittsburg; Joseph and Peter, Marlana; James, Lemont; and Patrick of Footdale. A brother, Luke Reddigan, lives at Ellsworth.

The funeral will be held tomorrow at 2 o'clock from the Bailey home at 210 Italian Church, interment at St. John's cemetery at Lemont.

Out of the Hospital.
B. & O. Engineer William Bradley, who was operated on several weeks ago at the Cottage State hospital, was discharged from that institution this morning greatly improved.

Schedule That Has Been Submitted for Lynch Cup Games in the H. C. Frick Coke Company League.

The schedule given below is one that has practically been decided upon by the Executive Committee of the Frick League of baseball clubs. There will possibly be changes in it where the Scottline-Everson team and the Lemont team are scheduled. It is possible that these two teams will be beaten out by others in their respective divisions as a result of the games to be played this evening and by the decisions of protests on forfeited

Team	At Home No.	At Scottline-Everson	At Leisenring	At Lemont	At Edenhorn	At Oliphant-Wynn
HUCCLA NO. 2	THE COURIER	Tuesday, Sept. 5	Saturday, Sept. 2	Thursday, Aug. 10	Thursday, Aug. 17	Wednesday, Aug. 23
SCOTTLAND-LEISENRING	Monday, Aug. 21	WILL GIVIE	Thursday, Aug. 17	Saturday, Sept. 9	Saturday, Sept. 2	Saturday, Aug. 12
LEISENRING	Saturday, Aug. 12	Saturday, Aug. 20	BEST NEWS	Tuesday, Aug. 20	Saturday, Sept. 9	Monday, Aug. 14
LEIMONT	Thursday, Aug. 31	Saturday, Aug. 19	Monday, Aug. 7	OF THE	Monday, Aug. 21	Monday, Sept. 4
EDENHORN	Thursday, Sept. 7	Wednesday, Aug. 9	Thursday, Aug. 24	Tuesday, Aug. 15	THOMAS LYNCH	Tuesday, Aug. 20
OLIPHANT-WYNN	Wednesday, Aug. 10	Thursday, Aug. 31	Wednesday, Sept. 6	Friday, Aug. 25	Monday, Aug. 7	CUP SERIES

ROOSEVELT TELLS OF STEEL DEAL.

Claims Approval of Tennessee Merger Was Justified.

TRUST BUSTING IS DISCUSSED

The Colonel and Chairman Stanley Exchange Their Views on This Subject and Fail to Agree—Regulation by Interference, Says T. R.

United Press Telegram.
NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—Accepting full responsibility for his approval of the "gobbling" of the Tennessee Coal, Iron & Railway Company by the Steel Trust during the panic of 1907, former President Theodore Roosevelt today told the Stanley steel committee that he had been convinced that the merger was absolutely necessary to save the country from financial collapse.

He declared that Judge E. H. Gary and H. C. Fick, who visited the White House to secure permission to absorb the Tennessee company told him it was the only way to stop the panic. The Stanley committee has proved by half a score of witnesses that the total amount of Tennessee Coal & Iron stock involved in the panic was but a trifling per centage of the enormous loans which were tottering.

With all his old time vigor and ardor, and with characteristic expressions, Colonel Roosevelt reviewed the panic. He declared that his one object was to prevent disaster. For two hours Chairman Stanley and the members of the committee bombarded him with questions. In summing up his testimony at the close of the examination, Roosevelt said:

"All the information I had at that time and all of the information I have received since leads me to believe that not only was my action in the case warranted and proper, but that I would have been criminal in my position as a representative of the people of the United States if I had failed to take that action."

Colonel Roosevelt admitted, however, that at the time of the merger he had no information as to the immense quantities of coal and iron ore which the Tennessee company turned over to the Steel Trust, which, according to the other evidence given before the committee, gave them a practical monopoly of the iron and steel business.

Colonel Roosevelt and Chairman Stanley then gave their respective views on how "trust busting" must be conducted. Stanley claimed that the trust should be split up into its component parts while Roosevelt said he did not believe that was practicable. He said he believed in government control by interference.

Rest Room Made Tidy Sum

The members of the local and South Connellsville Woman's Christian Temperance Union, after settling up all bills incurred, found that they had realized a neat sum for the treasury from the lunch stand during the three days' celebration. Owing to the rain on Thursday the closing day was not as successful as the first two days.

The free drinking fountain erected in the front of the tent was greatly appreciated by the people and all day long and late at night many persons sought the fountain to quench their thirst. The rest room tent erected in the rear was a great comfort to many tired mothers and their children. There were comfortable rockers, couches and many conveniences. The members of the union desire to extend their thanks and appreciation to all persons who contributed toward the success of their enterprise.

Public Safety Committee Meets

A meeting of the Public Safety Committee was held at City Hall last evening at which the members of the paid fire department appeared. The members were given a fatherly talking to by Chairman Cyrus Stoner and other members of the committee. No charges were brought against the firemen.

The committee decided several days ago to ask them to appear last evening for a conference regarding their duty as members of the department, both on and off duty. All the members were present last evening.

Was Largely Attended.
Largely attended was the regular meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Trinity Reformed church held last evening at the home of Mrs. Louisa Baker in Greenwood. A short business session was held, at the conclusion of which a social hour was held and refreshments were served.

Marshall Herrington Dies.
Marshall Herrington, a carpenter, formerly residing in Connellsville, died at 12.30 o'clock this afternoon at his home at Pechin Station.

ROOSEVELT TELLS OF STEEL DEAL.

Claims Approval of Tennessee Merger Was Justified.

TRUST BUSTING IS DISCUSSED

The Colonel and Chairman Stanley Exchange Their Views on This Subject and Fail to Agree—Regulation by Interference, Says T. R.

United Press Telegram.
NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—Accepting full responsibility for his approval of the "gobbling" of the Tennessee Coal, Iron & Railway Company by the Steel Trust during the panic of 1907, former President Theodore Roosevelt today told the Stanley steel committee that he had been convinced that the merger was absolutely necessary to save the country from financial collapse.

He declared that Judge E. H. Gary and H. C. Fick, who visited the White House to secure permission to absorb the Tennessee company told him it was the only way to stop the panic. The Stanley committee has proved by half a score of witnesses that the total amount of Tennessee Coal & Iron stock involved in the panic was but a trifling per centage of the enormous loans which were tottering.

With all his old time vigor and ardor, and with characteristic expressions, Colonel Roosevelt reviewed the panic. He declared that his one object was to prevent disaster. For two hours Chairman Stanley and the members of the committee bombarded him with questions. In summing up his testimony at the close of the examination, Roosevelt said:

"All the information I had at that time and all of the information I have received since leads me to believe that not only was my action in the case warranted and proper, but that I would have been criminal in my position as a representative of the people of the United States if I had failed to take that action."

Colonel Roosevelt admitted, however, that at the time of the merger he had no information as to the immense quantities of coal and iron ore which the Tennessee company turned over to the Steel Trust, which, according to the other evidence given before the committee, gave them a practical monopoly of the iron and steel business.

Colonel Roosevelt and Chairman Stanley then gave their respective views on how "trust busting" must be conducted. Stanley claimed that the trust should be split up into its component parts while Roosevelt said he did not believe that was practicable. He said he believed in government control by interference.

Wm. E. Meehan Resigns His Office

United Press Telegram.
HARRISBURG, Aug. 5.—State Fish Commissioner William E. Meehan's resignation, put in the hands of Governor John K. Tener some days ago, has been accepted by wire from Massachusetts, where the Governor is spending his vacation.

Nathan R. Buller of Pleasant Mount, Wayne county, a practical fish culturist and employed by the Department of Fisheries, has been appointed in his place. In a statement Meehan says he regrets to resign after serving for eight years as head of the commission and being connected with it several years more.

He says that the attacks made upon him by newspapers in York and Lancaster counties have nothing to do with his resignation as he can better himself financially.

A Lad Drowned While Camping

While out on a camping trip at Templeton, Pa., Edgar Einstein, aged 12 years, a nephew of L. Aaron, was drowned last Thursday in the Allegheny river. The boy is a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Einstein of Kittanning, Pa., and was accompanied by his parents on the camping trip.

Mr. Aaron left this morning to attend the funeral which will take place tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock. Particulars of the drowning had not been learned up until today at noon by the members of the Aaron family.

Marshall Herrington Dies.
Marshall Herrington, a carpenter, formerly residing in Connellsville, died at 12.30 o'clock this afternoon at his home at Pechin Station.

SCHWAB TESTIFIES IN STEEL PROBE.

Declares That Corporation Was Child of His Brain.

HE DEFENDS IT WARMLY

Says Combination Was Organized for the Purpose of Improving the Steel Industry in America and Not to Interfere With Competition.

Special to The Courier.

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—Charles M. Schwab, now a competitor of the United States Steel Corporation, yesterday revealed that corporation before the House committee of inquiry as the child of his own brain, reared by J. Pierpont Morgan, with the acquiescence since regretted, of Andrew Carnegie. Mr. Schwab pictured the Steel Corporation as a legal organization not formed to curtail output, restrict competition or maintain prices, but to develop the steel industry of America. Aside from reciting the inside history of the origin of the Steel Corporation, he gave the committee much information relating to traffic matters, ore properties and steel manufacturers.

The witness denied that the recent Brussels conference of steel manufacturers of the world, from which he returned recently, had anything to do with fixing prices.

"I want to assure you," he said, "that at no time was the question of price or division of business territory even mentioned. We were there to tell the exact truth, it seems to me, to have a good time."

Representative Sterling of Illinois led Mr. Schwab into a general discussion of the tariff on steel, particularly as to the relations of the business in this country and Germany.

"The real purpose of the tariff on steel," Mr. Sterling suggested, "is to protect you in the home market. You say you can manufacture rails as cheaply as Germany and you still have the advantage in that they must transport to our market."

"Yes, but Germany can now transport to our Pacific coast for less than we can ship from Pittsburgh to the coast," said Mr. Schwab.

"I do not want to argue the tariff," he continued, "but I cannot, for the life of me, see any disadvantage to America from the liberal protection. It seems to me to be, a mistake to have the tariff so low that a foreign competitor can even reach our Pacific coast. That is not the practice of Germany, France, Austria or Italy, or of any country, except England."

"You could make rails for less than $25 a ton and still make some profit couldn't you?" Mr. Deall inquired.

"Oh, yes," was Mr. Schwab's reply, "but I think $25 a ton is too low. As a matter of fact since I have been president of the Bethlehem Steel Company we have never sold rails for less than $30. We have sold them as high as $35 a ton."

Mr. Schwab was a willing witness on all points but one. When Mr. Deall asked him concerning an option given before the Steel Corporation combine by Andrew Carnegie on his steel plants to Judge W. H. Moore and H. C. Frick—a deal never consummated, to the financial loss of Mr. Moore and Mr. Frick—Mr. Schwab said that the option was secured for some one whose name never has been mentioned.

"Who was it?" Mr. Deall asked.

"I prefer not to say."

"Was it some one now engaged in the steel business?"

"Nothing can induce me to say more," Mr. Schwab answered. "It was a purely personal and private matter."

The subject was pressed no further.

Chairman Stanley referred to the suit brought by H. C. Frick against the Carnegie company in 1899 when the former retired and when, on the basis of the rounded agreement, he was to have been paid his share on a book value of the property, or about $75,000,000. Frick in his suit placed the value at $250,000,000. It was finally settled on an appraised value of about $250,000,000.

"This was the same property, was it not," asked Mr. Stanley, "that was sold a few months afterwards to the United States Steel Corporation for $320,000,000?"

Mr. Schwab said it was, but explained that the book value mentioned was based on the actual dollars members of the company had put in the concern and that each member, in case of death or retirement had agreed, Mr. Frick among them, to sell his stock to other members of the company, on that basis.

"We were trying to make Mr. Frick live up to his own agreement," he added. "We finally reorganized and agreed upon a $320,000,000 valuation."

Mr. Schwab will appear before the committee again. Hearings in New York will probably be concluded to night and the committee will return to Washington.

Sold West Side Lot.
S. M. Jeffries, of North Pittsburgh street has disposed of a desirable lot, No. 352 in Greenwood, to Harrison J. Barkley. The deal was made by Real Estate Agent George Wilhelm of the West Side.

Piano Recital Delightful Affair

The residence of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Welho on Johnston avenue was the scene of a delightful musical event Thursday evening when the pupils of Miss Emma Wilson gave the second of a series of piano recitals. There were a number of guests present who were entertained with a well selected program. Each participant in the program handled their numbers in a very capable manner.

The program was as follows: "Mazurka," Helen Shaw, "Alpine Horn," Cindarella Schell; violin solo, Frank Reese; "Wayside Chapel," Edna Davis; "Mountain Stream," Margaret Santenior; solo, Miss Graft; march, James Reese; "Forest Road," Lottie Kinsbury; violin solo, Frank Reese; "Silvery Waves," Lillian Welho; "Bullango, Op. 98, No. 1," Fred Baker; march, Jennie Gandoni, solo, Miss Graft; "Robins Return," Pearl Snyder; "Palma," Leon Kinsbury, Trio, Op. 193, Alphonselien, the Misses, Santenior and Welho.

WASHING WITHOUT WATER

Is Like Trying to Get Rid of Dandruff Without Herpicide.

Did you ever see any one trying to wash themselves without soap or water?

If you did what would you any of him?

It is every bit as foolish to try to get rid of dandruff and to prevent baldness by feeding the germs which cause it, with Cantharides, Yucca, Glycerine and similar substances which form the principal ingredients of most so-called Hair Vigors.

Now's the Herpicide is successful because it attacks and kills the parasitic germ which feeds on the hair roots.

It is the original and only genuine scalp germicide manufactured. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. One dollar bottles guaranteed. Graham & Co., Special Agents.

WILSON FUNERAL

Held From Home on Fairview Avenue Yesterday Afternoon.

Yesterday afternoon at 1 o'clock impressive funeral services were held over the remains of the late Mazie Lerch Wilson from her late home on East Fairview avenue. The funeral was one of the largest held here for some time. The house was filled with sorrowing friends and relatives who had assembled to pay their respects to the one whom they so highly esteemed and to extend their sympathy to the grief stricken father, brothers and sisters of the deceased.

Rev. J. J. Burgess, pastor of the Trinity Lutheran church, officiated. The floral tributes were numerous and handsome. The pallbearers were Philip Swartzwelder, Ralph Miller, Wendell Carroll of Dunbar, and James Fornwall of Uniontown. Interment in Hill Grove cemetery.

AGED LATROBE MAN DEAD.

John A. McKinney, Pioneer Railroad Civil Engineer, Dies.

LATROBE, Pa., Aug. 1.—(Special) John A. McKinney, a pioneer citizen of Latrobe, is dead at his home on Baker's hill. He was born in Baltimore, Md., over 83 years ago, and when quite young came with his parents to Youngstown, a suburb of Latrobe. He was a member of the first engineering corps sent out by the Pennsylvania railroad to plan the route through this end of the State. Fifty-one years ago he was married to Elizabeth Cornwall of Pittsburgh, who survives him with two daughters, Miss Lila McKinney, Agnes McKinney, J. L. McKinney and Frank McKinney. He was a member of the Holy Family Church.

GAME POSTPONED

On the West Side Last Night Because of Wet Grounds.

On account of wet grounds the baseball game which was to have been played on the West Side field last evening by the West Side Independents and the Meyer team, was postponed. The Independents will play the North End sluggers this evening on the West Side grounds. Either Wilson or Darnell will pitch for the Independents.

SUNDAY EXCURSIONS

Ashtabula Harbor and Erie—Special Train Leaves P. & L. E. Depot 6:33 A. M. City time, Sunday August 6th, returning same evening. Take this opportunity and spend a day on Lake Erie. $1.75 round trip.

Wedding Announced.

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Ruby Augustino, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Augustino of Addison, Pa., and Mr. Albert Black, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Black of Confluence. The marriage was solemnized Sunday, July 30, at the home of the bride's parents. Rev. E. W. Kelley officiated. The bridegroom was clerk in A. G. Black's department store at Confluence.

Cut His Throat.

GREENSBURG, Pa., Aug. 5.—Despondent, Clarke Hunker, aged 29 years, residing near Weaver's Old Stand, Armstrong postoffice, committed suicide last night by cutting his throat with a razor. Hunker was unmarried and has been suffering from melancholia for some time.

BORDEN FIGHTS RECIPROCITY WITH THE UNITED STATES.

OTTAWA, Aug. 5.—R. L. Borden, leader of the Conservative party in the Canadian parliament, is the chief of the opposition to reciprocity with the United States. He and some of his associates are conducting an active speaking tour against the resolution recently passed by congress.

Women Rioters Wreck Three Cars

United Press Telegram.

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—Led by a woman, a mob of several hundred men, women and children today tore down a city street, wrecked three cars and stoned and beat their way in a riot which followed the calling of a strike on two of Brooklyn's street car lines to Coney Island.

Four persons were injured. A serious congestion is feared when the half holiday crowd begins going to Coney Island.

FREAK EGG.

It is a Foot Long and Contains a Chick and Two Other Eggs.

The prize freak egg was discovered at Gainesville, Ga. The egg is one foot long and contains three other eggs, the last of these holding a unborn chicken and the others ordinary whites and yolks.

It is said that the egg was laid by a prize Rooster Orpington hen. The egg, or eggs, were opened before several citizens, who were astounded at the freak.

A common shell covered the three remarkable eggs.

MISSIONARY MEETING.

Held Yesterday at the Home of Mrs. W. R. Clasper.

The regular monthly meeting of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal church was held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. R. Clasper on Green street, with many members present. Mrs. A. A. Clarke read a paper on "Mollie's Mite Box," while Mrs. E. Dunn read an interesting paper on "Missionary Work in India."

It was decided to extend an invitation to the General Secretary Miss Caranahan of the Philadelphia branch of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal church to be present at the next regular meeting to be held in the church, Thursday, September 7. If it is possible for Miss Caranahan to be present the meeting will be held in the evening. The members are requested to turn in their mite boxes. Miss Caranahan resides in Pittsburgh.

When You Want
Anything advertised in our classified column. The cost? 1c a word.

PERSONAL

Dumont's Royal Band of France next Sunday evening 8th, Shady Grove, afternoon and evening.

Miss Corbett of Scotland, who has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Draper of West Fayette street for the past week, returned home today.

Mrs. J. N. Stillwagon and daughter, Miss Lessaline, will leave this evening for a trip to Cleveland, O., Detroit, Mich. and St. Paul, Minn. On the 31st of August they will be joined in Cleveland by Mr. Stillwagon.

Mrs. W. W. Horstman of Philadelphia, returned home today, after a visit with Mr. and Mrs. S. G. McCune and other friends and relatives in and around Connelville.

Miss Marie Ganter went to Orient Pa. today to spend several days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Ginter.

Miss Clyde Brehm and children of Uniontown are the guests of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Miller, and other relatives in the West Side.

Mrs. M. J. Foley of New York, returned home this morning, after a visit with Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Driscoll of the West Side.

Mrs. Charles M. Poe and daughter of Uniontown have returned home after a visit with friends.

Mrs. F. A. Crow is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Robert Campbell at Morgantown.

W. E. Campbell employed in the department of Justice of Allegheny county, is visiting his parents here, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Campbell.

Mrs. Howard Jennings entertained a select company of invited guests on Friday night, the occasion being the 40th anniversary of her birth.

CHICHESTER'S PILLS
THE DIABETIC REMEDY
Chichester's Pills are the only reliable remedy for Diabetes, Gravel, Gout, Rheumatism, Catarrh of the Bladder, and all the troubles which result from the accumulation of uric acid in the blood. They are sold by all druggists everywhere.

Isn't it nice to be out here communing with nature?
If you mean finding a quiet spot where we can talk about our neighbors why yes.

WEBSTER'S
NEW STANDARD (ILLUSTRATED)
DICTIONARY COUPON
SATURDAY, AUGUST 5, 1911.
SIX COUPONS OF CONSECUTIVE DATES CONSTITUTE A SET.

Cut out the above coupon with five others of consecutive dates, and present them at this office, with the express bonus amount herein set opposite any style of Dictionary selected which covers the items of the cost of packing, express from the factory, clerical, clerk hire and other necessary EXPENSE items, and receive your choice of these three books:

The $4.00 (Like illustration in advertisement elsewhere in this issue) WEBSTER'S is bound in full Limp Leather, flexible, stamped in gold. New Standard and corners rounded; beautiful, strong, durable. Besides the general contents as described elsewhere there are maps illustrated, and over 600 subjects beautifully illustrated by three-color plates, numerous subjects by monochrome, 16 pages of valuable charts in two colors, and the late United States Census. Present at this office six consecutive Dictionary coupons and the 98c

The $3.00 It is exactly the same as the $4.00 book, but in a smaller size. It is bound in half leather, with gold corners. It is illustrated with 1000 subjects, and contains the same maps, charts, and the late United States Census. Present at this office six consecutive Dictionary coupons and the 81c

The $2.00 It is in plain cloth binding. It is bound in half leather, with gold corners. It is illustrated with 1000 subjects, and contains the same maps, charts, and the late United States Census. Present at this office six consecutive Dictionary coupons and the 48c

Any Book by Mail 25c Extra for Postage

A CITY IN THE SEA.

Ruins of an Ancient Town on the Bed of the Adriatic.

Near Rovigo, on the peninsula of Istria, in the Adriatic sea, the ruins of a large town are said to exist at the bottom of the sea. It had been observed for some years that fishermen were sometimes entangled in what appeared to be masses of masonry, of which fragments were brought up from the sea bed, says the Pall Mall Gazette. A diver declared that he had seen walls and streets below the water.

The city authorities decided to investigate. They sent down a diver, who, at the depth of 851 feet, found himself surrounded, on the bottom of the sea by the ruined walls, undoubtedly the work of man. Continuing his explorations, he traced the line of walls and was able to distinguish how the streets were laid out. He did not see any doors or window openings, for they were hidden by masses of seaweed and incrustations. He traced the masonry for a distance of 100 feet, where he had to stop, as his diving cord did not permit him to go farther.

Some people think that they identify this lost town with the island mentioned by Pliny the elder under the name of Cissa, near Istria. This island cannot be found now, and it is thought the submerged town may have been a settlement on the island that so mysteriously disappeared.

DIED IN HOSPITAL.

Local Italian Was a Victim of Tuberculosis.

Giavanni Pellegrini, an Italian aged 50 years died this morning of tuberculosis in the Greensburg hospital. J. J. Bower, assistant of Funeral Director J. L. Stader, went to Greensburg this morning and will accompany the body here this afternoon on the P. R. R. train due at 2:50.

The remains will be removed to Stader's funeral parlors and will be kept there until tomorrow afternoon at 1 o'clock, at which time services will be held in Our Lady of Mt. Carmel Italian Church, interment in St. Joseph's cemetery.

A Class Student.

The late Goldsmith, writing for the Nineteenth Century, recalls that Robert Lowe, afterwards Lord Sherbrooke, was so overworked that when he was reading his nose literally touched his book.

He took high honors at Oxford, but a wild wind of him.

"Love would have taken higher honors at Oxford if he had not rubbed out with his nose what he had written with his pen."

SMITHFIELD.

SMITHFIELD, Aug. 5.—Edward Jones and wife of Morgantown, W. Va., are visiting the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Jones. He has just returned from Pittsburgh, where he had been for two months in a hospital undergoing treatment for a lung ailment. He is in the fine mill at Morgantown in December, 1908. The hospital authorities reported to him that he had a complete cure of the lung ailment.

Frederick J. Worth of Pittsburgh, was a business visitor Friday.

Mr. O. B. and Mr. E. D. Darr of Uniontown, were transacting business in the borough Friday.

William Barton, proprietor of the Smithfield House, was a business visitor at Uniontown Friday.

The weather man is being right good to us now. Three copious showers on Thursday evening and two more on Friday have made his predictions good and have been of unestimable benefit to crops in this section.

Mrs. Walter Bailey and daughter, Ruth, returned Friday from a week's visit with relatives at Connelville.

James Wain and wife of Vandergrift, and Jacob Wain of Butler, Pa., who have been visiting relatives in to va and country, returned to their respective homes Friday.

A C. Jones, mine inspector at Shof, painfully cut his right hand on a piece of roof slate in that mine Thursday. The cut is in the palm of the hand and required several stitches to close the cut.

Mrs. F. A. Crow is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Robert Campbell at Morgantown.

W. E. Campbell employed in the department of Justice of Allegheny county, is visiting his parents here, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Campbell.

Mrs. Howard Jennings entertained a select company of invited guests on Friday night, the occasion being the 40th anniversary of her birth.

W. N. LECHE
106 W. MAIN STREET, CONNELLSVILLE.

Ladies' Tailored Suits Half-Price

Ladies' Tailored Suits In Grey, Navy and Tan. These suits formerly sold at $12.50 Sale price.....$6.25

Ladies' Tailored Suits Beautiful Mixed Greys and Navy, with white pin stripe. These are regular $16.50 suits Price.....$8.25

Beautiful Grey Suits that formerly sold at $20.00, sale price.....$10

Ladies' $25.00 Tailored Suits, sale price.....$12.50

Pillow Tubing Special For Just a Short While. Here is an interesting offering. 45 inch Bleached Pillow Tubing, formerly sold at 23c yard. Sale price.....19c

42 inch Tubing that sold at 25c the yard Sale price.....18c

Men's 15c Linen Collars 5c (Called Seconds.) But, that seems only an excuse to offer a 15c Collar for 5c, for you cannot see a thing the matter with them. Our special price.....5c

SOME OF THE NEW THINGS (SHOWING) INFANTS' NEW WHITE DRESSES

We could write volumes about these as to the merit, make, etc. Come, see them.

WE HANDLE AN EXCLUSIVE LINE OF THESE

Infants' Long White Dresses Priced at 25c, 50c, 75c, 85c, $1.00, $1.25, $1.50, $2.00, $2.50, $2.75, $3.00. Beautifully trimmed with lace and embroidery.

Infants' Short White Dresses—Landscape creations, daintily made and values guaranteed the best on earth. Range in price from 50c to $3.00.

Infants' Long Skirts at Reduced Prices. Splendid values at 25c and 50c: 85c Skirts, sale price 75c; $1.25 Skirts, sale price.....98c

Infants' Short Skirts, 25c and 50c; 85c Skirts, sale price 75c; $1.00 Skirts, sale price.....88c

Baby Sets of Dress and Skirt Priced $2.75 and $3.75

Ladies' New Silver Chain Purses Will guarantee these equal to the best produced price considered—$2.00, $2.25, $2.50, $3.50, $4.50, $5.00, $7.50 and $10.00.

Ladies' Leather Hand Bags Reduced A handsome new line, priced from $1.00 to $8.50. EXTRA SPECIAL—Leather Hand Bags, regular price $1.25. Price.....$1

Keep in Touch With the Union Supply Company Stores

Starting August 1st, a special rummage sale will be inaugurated in every department. We have been having clearance sales and special sales during July, which was the cause of us selling out many lines of goods, but the special rummage sale in August, will eclipse anything we have ever undertaken. We will start in the furniture department, and there is going to be a general reduction throughout. Beds and bedding of all sorts; furniture for the parlor; for the dining room; for the library; for the bed room and for the kitchen. There are carpets, linoleums, lace curtains, rugs, druggets, etc. There is everything you could want to furnish the house. Prices are cut. Keep in touch with this department.

KEEP IN TOUCH WITH THE UNION SUPPLY COMPANY SHOE RUMMAGE SALE.

Now the shoe clearance sales have also been going on, but the August rummage sale in the shoe department, will exceed anything we have ever attempted. It is for the men, women and children. It is a good time to stock up; to fit everybody out and it is a time to save twenty-five per cent. on your purchases. Good, first-class, fashionable, seasonable goods.

UNION SUPPLY CO.

63 LARGE DEPARTMENT STORES, Located in Fayette, Westmoreland & Allegheny Cos.

TAKE Canadian Pacific Rail and Steamship Lines

If you intend to visit the famous Muskoka Lakes, Georgian Bay, Kawartha Lakes or Toronto, Ottawa, Montreal, Quebec or New England States, the far-famed Canadian Rockies, Banff, Laggan, Field, Great Glacier of the Selkies, or the Pacific Coast, Alaska, Japan, China, Hawaiian Islands, Australia or tour Around the World.

For fares, information and literature, call on or address
C. E. E. USSHER, P. T. M. Montreal, Canada.
C. L. WILLIAMS, C. A. P. D. 340 Sixth Ave., Pittsburgh, Pa.

2 in 1 SHOE POLISH

Children use it like grown-ups. Shines so easily. No turpentine.

THE F. F. BAILEY CO., Ltd., Enfield, H. Y., U. S. A. ALL DEALERS OK

PATRONIZE THOSE WHO ADVERTISE IN THE DAILY COURIER.

The Daily Courier.

Entered as second class matter at the postoffice, Conneltsville, Pa.

THIS COURIER COMPANY, Publishers.
H. F. SNYDER, President and Managing Editor.
J. H. & STIMMILL, Secretary and Treasurer.

Office, The Courier Building, 127 1/2 W. Main Street, Conneltsville, Pa.

SUBSCRIPTIONS.
DAILY, $5 per year, 10 per copy.
WEEKLY, $1 per year; 5c per copy.
PAY NO MONEY to carriers, but only to collectors with proper credentials.
Any irregularities or carelessness in the delivery of The Courier to homes by the carriers in Conneltsville or our agents in other towns should be reported to this office at once.

ADVERTISING. The only daily newspaper in the Conneltsville area which has the honesty and courage to print a daily report under the name of the advertiser. Other papers put forth some extravagant claims, but furnish no figures. Advertising rates on application.

THE WEEKLY COURIER is the recognized organ of the Conneltsville coke trade. It is a daily paper, an industrial journal and an advertising medium for such interests.

SATURDAY EVE'G., AUGUST 5, 1911.

Cure For Consumption.
Washington Reporter.

A new cure for tuberculosis has been discovered in England and it is being given a thorough test.

A dispatch from London tells how an English couple have found the way to kill the microbes as follows:

"Following on the heels of the report of the Royal Tuberculosis Commission and the annual conference of the National Society for the Prevention of Tuberculosis comes the announcement of a strange new cure for consumption by a former miner of the name of Bryant, who worked in the coal pits at Bradford and who was attacked by consumption while at work in the mine.

"Bryant started the breeding of maggots which are raised in England for fishing bait and feeding pheasants, and there was an immediate and continuous improvement in health that led him to suppose that the gas of the putrid meat upon which he bred the maggots was the cure.

"He sent for his youngest daughter, who was in a consumption sanatorium in the Isle of Wight, and in two months she became a robust girl, having gained seventeen pounds. Bryant now has thirty patients breathing the gas from the putrid meat, with the result that is said to be excellent.

"A gentleman of the district has given the local council $50,000 to erect a building for a test of the cure on a big scale. John Burns, president of the local government board, ordered the medical officer of the West Yorkshire Health Department to inspect Bryant's establishment and report.

"A Bradford analyst accordingly was employed and he reports that an analysis of the samples of the atmosphere showed that its principal constituents are ammonia and trimethylamine, which even in weak solution destroy microbes in a few hours of exposure. The fumes, when inhaled, come into contact with the tubercle bacilli, reduce their vitality and may even kill them without any injurious effect upon the human organism."

If the tests prove that the English coal miner has hit at last upon a panacea for the dread disease it will be one of the greatest boons conferred upon the human race.

For years scientists and medical experts have been devoting their attention to tuberculosis with the hope of stopping its ravages and progress has been made.

The English discovery will be the last step necessary to eradicate the disease which claims thousands of victims annually.

Again Settled.
Johnstown Tribune.

The latest issue of the "Local Intelligence" contains a decision from the courts of Fayette county which is of particular interest wherever railroad improvements are going on. It covers the point as to whether or not a railroad can seize under the condemnation laws of the State a homestead, that is, a dwelling occupied by its owner. There is a general impression that this cannot be done, but the contrary is true under certain conditions.

According to the Fayette county decision, which is in line with numerous previous opinions, a "railroad company, for the purpose of straightening, widening, or improving its road, may condemn a dwelling house occupied by its owner." It is only in the first construction of a new railroad that a dwelling house is immune from condemnation. Even then it is not immune if it is empty or occupied by a renter. The owner must live in it, and if he will not sell, the railroad track must be so laid as not to destroy his house. It may pass close to it, and if later the railroad company desires to improve its right of way, the house is no longer protected, but may be condemned and taken by the railroad.

Knowledge of what is actually the law in the case oftentimes might cause owners to be less stubborn and more reasonable in their demands when their property is wanted for railway purposes. For it is not an uncommon thing for such to ask two or three times as much for their holdings as they would have been glad to receive from private purchasers before knowing their property was in demand for the use of the railroad.

Looking Backward.

News of the Past Contained from the Files of The Courier.

Friday, August 5, 1911.

Work on the Redstone branch between Uniontown and Brownsville progressing. One bridge has been completed over Redstone Creek, work on the second is about half finished and the third is begun.

Policeman Jones says that his colleague and himself always stay on duty until midnight, and sometimes until 1 o'clock. We are of the opinion, however, that the town needs all night police duty, and hope the Town Council will realize their duty in the premises.

Charter is granted at Harrisburg for extension of the Lake Erie railroad from Meigsport up the Monongahela river. The road is to be called the Monongahela East Shore railroad; capital stock $300,000. The road is intended to tap a section of the Conneltsville region that was to be opened within the next 15 or 20 years. Eventually the object of the company is to extend the line into West Virginia.

Fireman Frank Ampley of the Tough Express, from the cow catcher of his engine, rescued a three year old child at Haverhill station.

There are rumors of a burning gas well at Murrayville, Westmoreland county, is visible in Conneltsville.

There are rumors of a burning gas well at Murrayville, Westmoreland county, is visible in Conneltsville.

There are rumors of a burning gas well at Murrayville, Westmoreland county, is visible in Conneltsville.

There are rumors of a burning gas well at Murrayville, Westmoreland county, is visible in Conneltsville.

There are rumors of a burning gas well at Murrayville, Westmoreland county, is visible in Conneltsville.

There are rumors of a burning gas well at Murrayville, Westmoreland county, is visible in Conneltsville.

There are rumors of a burning gas well at Murrayville, Westmoreland county, is visible in Conneltsville.

There are rumors of a burning gas well at Murrayville, Westmoreland county, is visible in Conneltsville.

There are rumors of a burning gas well at Murrayville, Westmoreland county, is visible in Conneltsville.

There are rumors of a burning gas well at Murrayville, Westmoreland county, is visible in Conneltsville.

There are rumors of a burning gas well at Murrayville, Westmoreland county, is visible in Conneltsville.

There are rumors of a burning gas well at Murrayville, Westmoreland county, is visible in Conneltsville.

There are rumors of a burning gas well at Murrayville, Westmoreland county, is visible in Conneltsville.

There are rumors of a burning gas well at Murrayville, Westmoreland county, is visible in Conneltsville.

There are rumors of a burning gas well at Murrayville, Westmoreland county, is visible in Conneltsville.

There are rumors of a burning gas well at Murrayville, Westmoreland county, is visible in Conneltsville.

There are rumors of a burning gas well at Murrayville, Westmoreland county, is visible in Conneltsville.

There are rumors of a burning gas well at Murrayville, Westmoreland county, is visible in Conneltsville.

There are rumors of a burning gas well at Murrayville, Westmoreland county, is visible in Conneltsville.

There are rumors of a burning gas well at Murrayville, Westmoreland county, is visible in Conneltsville.

There are rumors of a burning gas well at Murrayville, Westmoreland county, is visible in Conneltsville.

There are rumors of a burning gas well at Murrayville, Westmoreland county, is visible in Conneltsville.

There are rumors of a burning gas well at Murrayville, Westmoreland county, is visible in Conneltsville.

There are rumors of a burning gas well at Murrayville, Westmoreland county, is visible in Conneltsville.

There are rumors of a burning gas well at Murrayville, Westmoreland county, is visible in Conneltsville.

There are rumors of a burning gas well at Murrayville, Westmoreland county, is visible in Conneltsville.

There are rumors of a burning gas well at Murrayville, Westmoreland county, is visible in Conneltsville.

There are rumors of a burning gas well at Murrayville, Westmoreland county, is visible in Conneltsville.

NOW THAT THEY PHOTOGRAPH THE SOUL.

and her daughter were among the guests. The following officers were elected unanimously for the ensuing year: President, Lieut. Col. Everhart Haver, Uniontown; Vice President, H. J. Watson, Beaver Falls; Recording Secretary, Arch W. Powell, Pittsburg; Corresponding Secretary, James L. Hunter, Jamestown; Treasurer, Thomas S. Crapo, Waynesburg.

Corner stone of the Carnegie Free Library was laid Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock. Invocation delivered by Rev. W. J. Shippy, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church, Conneltsville.

Col. James J. Burnett laid the corner stone in the absence of Maj. W. S. Frew of Pittsburg. Short addresses were made by Attorney General John E. Larkin, Rev. W. A. Edie and Dr. J. C. McClenathan.

Dr. S. D. Woods sends letter to Chief of Police H. Rotter calling his attention to the fact that saloons are allowed in billiard and pool rooms, and that there are certain gambling dens in town, and advising him that he will be allowed a certain length of time to do his duty.

The store room of the Conneltsville Machine & Casing Company was robbed Sunday night, some rifles and razors being taken. The old Park house was entered Saturday morning.

The man who boomed our city—We've heard of him before. He walks the streets and alleys, When he passes by the door. He brought us fair employment; He gave a helping hand; He made conditions pleasant In the old forsaken land.

The man who knocks and hammers—We've heard of him before. He walks the streets and alleys, He hangs around the store. He proclaims the world is going To the region of the dogs; He declares we're eating pearls To a pack of scolding hogs.

The man who knows our business—We've heard of him before. We know he feeds on gossip And makes his neighbors sore. He has a style of talking That sounds just like a snore; He's the King of trouble makers. We've heard of him before.

The man who ran for office—We've heard of him before; When he always got defeated, He loudly boasted, "I've won." He damned his old line party, Because they wouldn't stick; He called each man a traitor For playing some new trick.

TWO LEADERS IN SOCIETY AFFAIRS AT NEWPORT, R. I.

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 5.—Society here is in the midst of summer entertaining and recreation; bathing at Bally's Beach, yachting on Narragansett Bay, dining at the Casino, and from the usual program of the members of the Four Hundred. Herewith are shown Mrs. Leonard Thomas and Mrs. Ernestine H. H. Thomas.

Mrs. Leonard Thomas and Mrs. Ernestine H. H. Thomas.

Mrs. Leonard Thomas and Mrs. Ernestine H. H. Thomas.

Mrs. Leonard Thomas and Mrs. Ernestine H. H. Thomas.

Mrs. Leonard Thomas and Mrs. Ernestine H. H. Thomas.

Mrs. Leonard Thomas and Mrs. Ernestine H. H. Thomas.

Mrs. Leonard Thomas and Mrs. Ernestine H. H. Thomas.

Mrs. Leonard Thomas and Mrs. Ernestine H. H. Thomas.

Mrs. Leonard Thomas and Mrs. Ernestine H. H. Thomas.

Mrs. Leonard Thomas and Mrs. Ernestine H. H. Thomas.

Mrs. Leonard Thomas and Mrs. Ernestine H. H. Thomas.

Mrs. Leonard Thomas and Mrs. Ernestine H. H. Thomas.

Mrs. Leonard Thomas and Mrs. Ernestine H. H. Thomas.

Mrs. Leonard Thomas and Mrs. Ernestine H. H. Thomas.

Mrs. Leonard Thomas and Mrs. Ernestine H. H. Thomas.

Mrs. Leonard Thomas and Mrs. Ernestine H. H. Thomas.

Mrs. Leonard Thomas and Mrs. Ernestine H. H. Thomas.

Mrs. Leonard Thomas and Mrs. Ernestine H. H. Thomas.

Mrs. Leonard Thomas and Mrs. Ernestine H. H. Thomas.

CLASSIFIED ADS. ONE CENT A WORD.

Wanted.

WANTED—LADY FOR KITCHEN work. Apply BALTIMORE HOUSE.

WANTED—EXPERIENCED DINING room girl, also dish washer. Apply HOTEL HAAS.

WANTED—A HOUSE FROM 7 TO 10 rooms. South Side preferred. Inquire at 208 CORDA AVENUE, Tri-State phone 758W.

WANTED—MEN, age 18 to 35, for menial, $100 monthly, brokenmen, $50, on nearly all railroads. Experience unnecessary; no strike. Positions guaranteed complete men. Promotion. Railroad Employing Headquarters—250 men sent to positions in July. State age; send stamp. RAILWAY ASSOCIATION, Box H, Courier, aug-12-10-20.

WANTED—DISTRICT MANAGERS and solicitors whole or part time by the International Casualty Company for their Special Casualty policy paying natural death; also new Preferred Business Men's policy. Absolutely the best sellers on the market. Good pay to buyers. Address C. MERK, Colonial Trust Bldg. Reading, Penna. Aug-12

FOR RENT—FURNISHED ROOM, 112 WEST AVE. Inquire at 112 West Ave.

FOR RENT—FURNISHED ROOM, 112 WEST AVE. Inquire at 112 West Ave.

FOR RENT—FURNISHED ROOM, 112 WEST AVE. Inquire at 112 West Ave.

FOR RENT—FURNISHED ROOM, 112 WEST AVE. Inquire at 112 West Ave.

FOR RENT—FURNISHED ROOM, 112 WEST AVE. Inquire at 112 West Ave.

FOR RENT—FURNISHED ROOM, 112 WEST AVE. Inquire at 112 West Ave.

FOR RENT—FURNISHED ROOM, 112 WEST AVE. Inquire at 112 West Ave.

FOR RENT—FURNISHED ROOM, 112 WEST AVE. Inquire at 112 West Ave.

FOR RENT—FURNISHED ROOM, 112 WEST AVE. Inquire at 112 West Ave.

FOR RENT—FURNISHED ROOM, 112 WEST AVE. Inquire at 112 West Ave.

FOR RENT—FURNISHED ROOM, 112 WEST AVE. Inquire at 112 West Ave.

FOR RENT—FURNISHED ROOM, 112 WEST AVE. Inquire at 112 West Ave.

FOR RENT—FURNISHED ROOM, 112 WEST AVE. Inquire at 112 West Ave.

FOR RENT—FURNISHED ROOM, 112 WEST AVE. Inquire at 112 West Ave.

FOR RENT—FURNISHED ROOM, 112 WEST AVE. Inquire at 112 West Ave.

FOR RENT—FURNISHED ROOM, 112 WEST AVE. Inquire at 112 West Ave.

FOR RENT—FURNISHED ROOM, 112 WEST AVE. Inquire at 112 West Ave.

FOR RENT—FURNISHED ROOM, 112 WEST AVE. Inquire at 112 West Ave.

FOR RENT—FURNISHED ROOM, 112 WEST AVE. Inquire at 112 West Ave.

FOR RENT—FURNISHED ROOM, 112 WEST AVE. Inquire at 112 West Ave.

FOR RENT—FURNISHED ROOM, 112 WEST AVE. Inquire at 112 West Ave.

FOR RENT—FURNISHED ROOM, 112 WEST AVE. Inquire at 112 West Ave.

FOR RENT—FURNISHED ROOM, 112 WEST AVE. Inquire at 112 West Ave.

FOR RENT—FURNISHED ROOM, 112 WEST AVE. Inquire at 112 West Ave.

DISTRESSING CASE OF HIVES CURED

Body Covered with Large Red Marks. Face Also Affected. Cuticura Ointment Eased Skin Right Away and Completely Cured.

"I retired one evening and after sleeping a couple of hours was awakened by a burning sensation all over the upper part of my body. It was just simply terrible and made it impossible for me to sleep the rest of that night, so I had to sit up all night changing my position every couple of minutes. As the hours went by it grew worse and soon I started to scratch myself. When daylight arrived I saw that my body was covered with large red marks about an inch or two apart. My face was also affected. I stayed home that day and went to see a doctor. He told me that I must have eaten something poisonous, and I had the hives. He prescribed a medicine and also gave me some ointment. As the days went by I steadily grew worse, the marks changing from itchy to burning. I was in a desperate condition. I immediately procured some Cuticura Ointment and applied it to my body. I could hardly believe it, but it seemed to ease my skin right away. I kept on using the Cuticura Ointment for a week and can say that it certainly was the finest preparation I had ever used. It completely cured me, and I have not been troubled since." (Signed) William Waterman, 129 E. 10th St., New York City, Dec. 9, 1908.

Although Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment are sold by druggists and dealers everywhere, a liberal sample of each, with 25-page booklet on the skin and hair, will be sent, post-free, on application to Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Dept. 22A, Boston.

Our 25c Stockings

Where do you buy your stockings and do they give satisfaction? We aim to carry the best assortment in Ladies' and Children's Stockings obtainable. Infants' and Children's Silk Lisle in black, white and all colors and all sizes at 25c and Ladies' Gauze Lisle, medium weight and heavy in regular and out sizes, also balbriggan and mocha feet. A big line from which to choose at 10c-12 1/2c-15c-20c-25c

Our 25c Stockings

Where do you buy your stockings and do they give satisfaction? We aim to carry the best assortment in Ladies' and Children's Stockings obtainable. Infants' and Children's Silk Lisle in black, white and all colors and all sizes at 25c and Ladies' Gauze Lisle, medium weight and heavy in regular and out sizes, also balbriggan and mocha feet. A big line from which to choose at 10c-12 1/2c-15c-20c-25c

Our 25c Stockings

Where do you buy your stockings and do they give satisfaction? We aim to carry the best assortment in Ladies' and Children's Stockings obtainable. Infants' and Children's Silk Lisle in black, white and all colors and all sizes at 25c and Ladies' Gauze Lisle, medium weight and heavy in regular and out sizes, also balbriggan and mocha feet. A big line from which to choose at 10c-12 1/2c-15c-20c-25c

Our 25c Stockings

Where do you buy your stockings and do they give satisfaction? We aim to carry the best assortment in Ladies' and Children's Stockings obtainable. Infants' and Children's Silk Lisle in black, white and all colors and all sizes at 25c and Ladies' Gauze Lisle, medium weight and heavy in regular and out sizes, also balbriggan and mocha feet. A big line from which to choose at 10c-12 1/2c-15c-20c-25c

Our 25c Stockings

Where do you buy your stockings and do they give satisfaction? We aim to carry the best assortment in Ladies' and Children's Stockings obtainable. Infants' and Children's Silk Lisle in black, white and all colors and all sizes at 25c and Ladies' Gauze Lisle, medium weight and heavy in regular and out sizes, also balbriggan and mocha feet. A big line from which to choose at 10c-12 1/2c-15c-20c-25c

Our 25c Stockings

Where do you buy your stockings and do they give satisfaction? We aim to carry the best assortment in Ladies' and Children's Stockings obtainable. Infants' and Children's Silk Lisle in black, white and all colors and all sizes at 25c and Ladies' Gauze Lisle, medium weight and heavy in regular and out sizes, also balbriggan and mocha feet. A big line from which to choose at 10c-12 1/2c-15c-20c-25c

Our 25c Stockings

Where do you buy your stockings and do they give satisfaction? We aim to carry the best assortment in Ladies' and Children's Stockings obtainable. Infants' and Children's Silk Lisle in black, white and all colors and all sizes at 25c and Ladies' Gauze Lisle, medium weight and heavy in regular and out sizes, also balbriggan and mocha feet. A big line from which to choose at 10c-12 1/2c-15c-20c-25c

Our 25c Stockings

Where do you buy your stockings and do they give satisfaction? We aim to carry the best assortment in Ladies' and Children's Stockings obtainable. Infants' and Children's Silk Lisle in black, white and all colors and all sizes at 25c and Ladies' Gauze Lisle, medium weight and heavy in regular and out sizes, also balbriggan and mocha feet. A big line from which to choose at 10c-12 1/2c-15c-20c-25c

Our 25c Stockings

Where do you buy your stockings and do they give satisfaction? We aim to carry the best assortment in Ladies' and Children's Stockings obtainable. Infants' and Children's Silk Lisle in black, white and all colors and all sizes at 25c and Ladies' Gauze Lisle, medium weight and heavy in regular and out sizes, also balbriggan and mocha feet. A big line from which to choose at 10c-12 1/2c-15c-20c-25c

Our 25c Stockings

Where do you buy your stockings and do they give satisfaction? We aim to carry the best assortment in Ladies' and Children's Stockings obtainable. Infants' and Children's Silk Lisle in black, white and all colors and all sizes at 25c and Ladies' Gauze Lisle, medium weight and heavy in regular and out sizes, also balbriggan and mocha feet. A big line from which to choose at 10c-12 1/2c-15c-20c-25c

Our 25c Stockings

Where do you buy your stockings and do they give satisfaction? We aim to carry the best assortment in Ladies' and Children's Stockings obtainable. Infants' and Children's Silk Lisle in black, white and all colors and all sizes at 25c and Ladies' Gauze Lisle, medium weight and heavy in regular and out sizes, also balbriggan and mocha feet. A big line from which to choose at 10c-12 1/2c-15c-20c-25c

Our 25c Stockings

Where do you buy your stockings and do they give satisfaction? We aim to carry the best assortment in Ladies' and Children's Stockings obtainable. Infants' and Children's Silk Lisle in black, white and all colors and all sizes at 25c and Ladies' Gauze Lisle, medium weight and heavy in regular and out sizes, also balbriggan and mocha feet. A big line from which to choose at 10c-12 1/2c-15c-20c-25c

Our 25c Stockings

Where do you buy your stockings and do they give satisfaction? We aim to carry the best assortment in Ladies' and Children's Stockings obtainable. Infants' and Children's Silk Lisle in black, white and all colors and all sizes at 25c and Ladies' Gauze Lisle, medium weight and heavy in regular and out sizes, also balbriggan and mocha feet. A big line from which to choose at 10c-12 1/2c-15c-20c-25c

Our 25c Stockings

Where do you buy your stockings and do they give satisfaction? We aim to carry the best assortment in Ladies' and Children's Stockings obtainable. Infants' and Children's Silk Lisle in black, white and all colors and all sizes at 25c and Ladies' Gauze Lisle, medium weight and heavy in regular and out sizes, also balbriggan and mocha feet. A big line from which to choose at 10c-12 1/2c-15c-20c-25c

Our 25c Stockings

Where do you buy your stockings and do they give satisfaction? We aim to carry the best assortment in Ladies' and Children's Stockings obtainable. Infants' and Children's Silk Lisle in black, white and all colors and all sizes at 25c and Ladies' Gauze Lisle, medium weight and heavy in regular and out sizes, also balbriggan and mocha feet. A big line from which to choose at 10c-12 1/2c-15c-20c-25c

Our 25c Stockings

Where do you buy your stockings and do they give satisfaction? We aim to carry the best assortment in Ladies' and Children's Stockings obtainable. Infants' and Children's Silk Lisle in black, white and all colors and all sizes at 25c and Ladies' Gauze Lisle, medium weight and heavy in regular and out sizes, also balbriggan and mocha feet. A big line from which to choose at 10c-12 1/2c-15c-20c-25c

Our 25c Stockings

Where do you buy your stockings and do they give satisfaction? We aim to carry the best assortment in Ladies' and Children's Stockings obtainable. Infants' and Children's Silk Lisle in black, white and all colors and all sizes at 25c and Ladies' Gauze Lisle, medium weight and heavy in regular and out sizes, also balbriggan and mocha feet. A big line from which to choose at 10c-12 1/2c-15c-20c-25c

Our 25c Stockings

New Scrims

And Fancy Curtain Goods For Mid-Summer and Early Fall.

Quite a big showing of those new Curtain Materials in all the newest and best drapery shades and designs. They come in 36 inch muslins with beautiful border effects and plain or all-over centers, and in scrims and other soft drapery materials suitable for curtains and draperies. Ask to see them for they will surely interest you. Prices are 15c and 25c

New White Goods

Here just in time

METHODISTS ELECT THEIR OFFICERS.

Scottdale Holds the Last Quarterly Conference for Year.

THE COMMITTEES ARE NAMED

United Brethren Choose Officers for Year, and Ministers are Named to Preach at That Church During Pastor's Absence—Other News.

Special to The Courier.
SCOTSDALE, Aug. 4.—The last quarterly conference of the First Methodist Episcopal church, Rev. R. B. Mansell, D. D., pastor, met at the pastor's study, with a full attendance last evening. Dr. R. B. Mansell, district superintendent, presiding over the meeting. In the first matter of business Judson T. Strickler was elected Trial of Appeals. The license of Rev. John D. Van Horn, of Scottdale, a local preacher, was renewed and his character passed. The following persons were then elected Trustees of the Church and Parsonage Property: I. A. Humphries, Dr. A. W. Strickler, J. A. Barnhart, C. A. Colborn, C. M. Jarrett, A. F. Myers, M. L. Hasnos, F. V. Perry and Dr. L. T. Gilbert. Dr. Gilbert is a new member instead of J. O. Sherrick, who moved to Ohio some months ago.

The following persons were then elected as the Board of Stewards for the ensuing conference year: I. W. Wiley, Dr. A. W. Strickler, A. Humphries, J. A. Barnhart, C. C. Boyd, Dr. O. L. Hess, Dr. James P. Strickler, George C. Jarrett, H. L. Francis, Walter J. Jones, H. J. Springer, S. B. Reed, H. F. Van Horn, Theodore Hocker, J. L. Reynolds, Robert H. Barkell, Messrs. J. L. Reynolds and R. B. Barkell are the new members.

For the ensuing year the following committees were appointed: Committee on Foreign Missions—Dr. A. W. Strickler, Mrs. Mary A. Loucks, Mrs. Anna J. Wooster; Home Missions and Church Extensions—H. C. Boyd, Mrs. E. B. Colborn and Mrs. Kate Walker; Sunday Schools—H. W. Wiley, Jesse A. Stauffer and Oliver M. Jarrett; Tracts—Misses Malinda Stoner and Olive Frots; Temperance—Dr. James P. Strickler, Joseph M. Luce and J. O. Landenberg; Education—Dr. O. L. Hess, Mrs. Abigail Strickler and Miss Cleo V. McKee; Freedmen's Aid—Albert L. Porter, Stephen M. Beatty and Arthur G. Trimble; Hospitals—Dr. L. T. Gilbert and Dr. C. W. McKee; Church Records and Auditing Accounts, Dr. A. W. Strickler, H. L. Francis and C. M. Jarrett; Harboring and Expulsion—The Ladies' Aid Society; Church Music—A. Humphries, J. A. Barnhart and H. B. Barkell; Estimating the Pastor's Salary—The Board of Stewards.

The prayer meetings were reported as large and spiritual, while the Epworth League was reported to be in a flourishing condition. After a revision of the records it was shown that at the beginning of the present pastorate there was a membership of less than 600, while now there are 700 members, a creditable gain. The financial condition was reported in good shape, the indebtedness being well provided for with the subscriptions yet due and payable.

United Brethren Work.
In the absence of the pastor, Rev. C. W. Hendrickson and Mrs. Hendrickson who have gone to Mountain Lake Park, Md., Rev. J. H. Pershing of Greensburg, will preach at that church on Sunday morning. In the evening the Union services will be on at that church. At the quarterly conference O. B. Hess was elected general steward and Albert Keister, church treasurer. Walter F. Stoner was elected delegate and Harry P. Kelly alternates to the conference which meets this fall in Huntington. The Board of Trustees was elected as follows: Albert Keister, H. A. Medsker, D. L. Sherrick, Charles L. Craft and J. M. Stoner. As Rev. Mr. Hendrickson will be gone during the month the pulpit on Sunday, August 13 will be occupied by Rev. J. S. Hayes, pastor of the Evergreen United Brethren church, who recently returned from a trip to the west. On Sunday morning, August 20, the minister will be Rev. S. W. Kelator, D. D., of Westerville, O., and on the following Sunday, Rev. J. E. Fout, of Bonobio Theological Seminary.

A New Minister.
Rev. O. J. Howarth of Ellwood City, Pa., has been called as the pastor of the Christian church, Scottdale, and will begin his work in this place about the middle of this month. The congregation has been without a minister for several months, the last minister being Rev. Thomas H. Shouder who went to Ohio to assume a pastorate there.

Gone to Glencoe.
W. J. Todd, one of Scottdale's early citizens, moved with his family to Glencoe, Somerset county, this week, and will take to the life of a farmer. Mr. Todd has a fine farm in that thrifty county and will be certain to make good in the role of an agriculturist.

The Union Services.
The union services of the churches of town which will be continued every Sunday evening of this month at 7:30 o'clock will be held tomorrow evening in the United Brethren and the Reformed churches. The ministers who will preach are not yet announced. On a Lake Trip. Mr. and Mrs. Fred L. Brown and Mrs. Fetter, wife of Dr. W. H. Fetter, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. B. F. May of Ambridge, Pa., expected to leave Cleveland yesterday for a trip over the Great Lakes.

Work in the Slums.
Prof. Will A. Chasman will speak on the "Work in the Slums," in the United Evangelical church tomorrow at 3 P. M. He has had a great deal of experience in the underworld of New York. He and his helpers will render some fine selections in song at this service. The lecture and singing will inspire the congregation and will be worth much to all who can be present. Sunday school at 2 P. M. All are cordially invited to the services.

Corner Stone Laying at Prittsstown.
The corner stone for the New United Evangelical church will be laid at Prittsstown Sunday, August 13, at 10:30 A. M. The pastor, Rev. H. B. Seese, has not yet announced the speakers for the occasion.

Song Service at Pennsville.
A song service with special selections will be rendered by Prof. Will A. Chasman and his helpers next Sunday morning in the Pennsville United Evangelical church. A cordial invitation is extended to the public. A rare treat for all.

OWENSDALE.

Special to The Courier.
OWENSDALE, Aug. 4.—The following is the program of the celebration of the 27th anniversary of the dedication of the United Brethren church to begin August 3 and lasting until August 20: Sunday, August 13, short addresses will be made in the morning by several ex-superintendents; special class services at 10:30; special program of the Y. P. B. C. E. at 6:30; church service at 7:30, preaching by pastor.

Tuesday evening at 7:30 there will be a sermon by Rev. J. S. Hayes of the Evergreen United Brethren church; Wednesday Rev. J. B. Kelens of the Fayette church will preach; Thursday and Friday evening, Rev. W. H. Spangler, former pastor of the local church, will preach. Sunday morning there will be communion services and Conference Superintendent Rev. J. S. Fulton will preach. There will be music by a special choir.

Rev. Benjamin Bungard, of the Oberlin University, Westerville, O., is again an invited friend here. It was at the Owensdale United Brethren church that Rev. Bungard first entered into the church work. Since entering into the fold Rev. Bungard has made splendid progress.

During the celebration at Connellsville there were immense crowds from the Morgan valley in attendance. The Mt. Pleasant branch train was filled each day. The train carried several extra coaches.

Andrew Thomas of Uniontown, was visiting relatives here Thursday. Miss Lena Crouse was shopping at Scottdale Thursday.

Mrs. Allen King and sister, Miss Elizabeth Stuckelback, the latter of Geneva are visitors here.

James Johnson, of Pittsburg, was visiting relatives here Thursday.

Lewis Keller was attending to matters of business at Scottdale yesterday. There was a merry crowd left Morgan Friday evening for the Methodist Protestant picnic at Shady Grove park where a union picnic was held.

Card of Thanks.
Mr. Jackson and Mr. Curry desire to thank all kind friends for their kindness and assistance during the sickness and death of their wife and daughter, Mrs. Jackson.

Politics and Politicians.
Massachusetts Democrats will meet October 5 to renominate Governor Foss.

The politicians in New Jersey cities are fighting hard and in many cases with success against the adoption of the commission form of government.

William V. Allen, who represented Nebraska in the United States Senate some years ago, aspires to a place on the district bench of that State.

Jacob M. Dickinson, late Secretary of War in President Taft's cabinet, has been appointed to a chair of law in Vanderbilt University.

The League of Republican Clubs of Ohio will meet at Cleveland, August 10, in Louisville, August 15, to formulate a platform.

Kentucky Democrats will meet in Louisville, August 15, to formulate a platform.

S. H. Barton, State Auditor of Nebraska, has announced himself as a candidate for the seat of Congressman George W. Norris.

Winfield T. Durbin, former governor of Indiana, intends to enter the race for the Republican nomination for governor again next year.

Maine has had State-wide prohibition since 1871—statutory from 1871 to 1908, and constitutional since 1911.

Walter Clyde Jones, a member of the Illinois senate, has announced himself as a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor next year.

Immediately after Congress adjourns Senators Martin and Swannell will return home to begin active campaigns for their re-election.

Maryland has a spirited three-cornered fight on for the Democratic nomination for governor, the contestants being Gov. Crothers, State Senator Arthur P. Gorman and State Senator Blair Lee.

President Taft has planned for the Importance of Being Careful of Rules Impressed on Minds of B. & O. Men.

The address delivered by C. W. Egan, General Claim Agent of the Baltimore & Ohio system, to the employees of the Operating Department of the road at their annual reunion at Harper's Ferry, W. Va., last Thursday (July 27th) was an address of considerable attention in railroad circles and the point brought out in the address urging care in the discharge of duty have been freely discussed. Mr. Egan spoke to the railroad men at their special invitation on the subject of "Conservation of Men," and the advice he gave the men of the rank and file in railroad operation is an evidence of the concerted action towards minimizing the number of railroad casualties being pursued by his official duties with the Baltimore & Ohio system has made a close study of the cause and effect, both to the company and to the employees, of a failure to observe instructions in little things which many times are attended by serious consequences in big things.

He made it plain to the railroad men that in most cases where an infraction of rules had resulted in a loss to the railroad company, or perhaps a personal injury to the employee, it would have actually caused less effort to regard the rules than to disregard them. Mr. Egan is regarded as an expert on the subject he spoke of at Harper's Ferry, having made similar talks to various sections of the railroad men throughout the country. He was President of the National Association of Railway Claim Agents, embracing a membership of the Claim Agents and Claims Attorneys of the large American and Canadian railroad systems and delivered a similar address before the convention of that association.

To the railroad men at Harper's Ferry, Mr. Egan pointed out that a majority of the railroad mishaps are a result of inadvertence on the part of the men themselves, or the act of a fellow servant. He cited to his hearers that in most cases more time is consumed making a report of an accident to superior officer than would have been necessary to take precautionary steps to prevent it. As Mr. Egan expressed it, "more time is taken up explaining a non-observance of rules which caused an accident than would have been required in the correct performance of duty and consequent avoidance of injury or damage to equipment."

He made it plain to the railroad men that in most cases where an infraction of rules had resulted in a loss to the railroad company, or perhaps a personal injury to the employee, it would have actually caused less effort to regard the rules than to disregard them. Mr. Egan is regarded as an expert on the subject he spoke of at Harper's Ferry, having made similar talks to various sections of the railroad men throughout the country.

He was President of the National Association of Railway Claim Agents, embracing a membership of the Claim Agents and Claims Attorneys of the large American and Canadian railroad systems and delivered a similar address before the convention of that association.

To the railroad men at Harper's Ferry, Mr. Egan pointed out that a majority of the railroad mishaps are a result of inadvertence on the part of the men themselves, or the act of a fellow servant. He cited to his hearers that in most cases more time is consumed making a report of an accident to superior officer than would have been necessary to take precautionary steps to prevent it.

As Mr. Egan expressed it, "more time is taken up explaining a non-observance of rules which caused an accident than would have been required in the correct performance of duty and consequent avoidance of injury or damage to equipment."

He made it plain to the railroad men that in most cases where an infraction of rules had resulted in a loss to the railroad company, or perhaps a personal injury to the employee, it would have actually caused less effort to regard the rules than to disregard them.

Mr. Egan is regarded as an expert on the subject he spoke of at Harper's Ferry, having made similar talks to various sections of the railroad men throughout the country.

He was President of the National Association of Railway Claim Agents, embracing a membership of the Claim Agents and Claims Attorneys of the large American and Canadian railroad systems and delivered a similar address before the convention of that association.

To the railroad men at Harper's Ferry, Mr. Egan pointed out that a majority of the railroad mishaps are a result of inadvertence on the part of the men themselves, or the act of a fellow servant.

He cited to his hearers that in most cases more time is consumed making a report of an accident to superior officer than would have been necessary to take precautionary steps to prevent it.

As Mr. Egan expressed it, "more time is taken up explaining a non-observance of rules which caused an accident than would have been required in the correct performance of duty and consequent avoidance of injury or damage to equipment."

He made it plain to the railroad men that in most cases where an infraction of rules had resulted in a loss to the railroad company, or perhaps a personal injury to the employee, it would have actually caused less effort to regard the rules than to disregard them.

Mr. Egan is regarded as an expert on the subject he spoke of at Harper's Ferry, having made similar talks to various sections of the railroad men throughout the country.

He was President of the National Association of Railway Claim Agents, embracing a membership of the Claim Agents and Claims Attorneys of the large American and Canadian railroad systems and delivered a similar address before the convention of that association.

To the railroad men at Harper's Ferry, Mr. Egan pointed out that a majority of the railroad mishaps are a result of inadvertence on the part of the men themselves, or the act of a fellow servant.

He cited to his hearers that in most cases more time is consumed making a report of an accident to superior officer than would have been necessary to take precautionary steps to prevent it.

As Mr. Egan expressed it, "more time is taken up explaining a non-observance of rules which caused an accident than would have been required in the correct performance of duty and consequent avoidance of injury or damage to equipment."

He made it plain to the railroad men that in most cases where an infraction of rules had resulted in a loss to the railroad company, or perhaps a personal injury to the employee, it would have actually caused less effort to regard the rules than to disregard them.

Mr. Egan is regarded as an expert on the subject he spoke of at Harper's Ferry, having made similar talks to various sections of the railroad men throughout the country.

He was President of the National Association of Railway Claim Agents, embracing a membership of the Claim Agents and Claims Attorneys of the large American and Canadian railroad systems and delivered a similar address before the convention of that association.

Importance of Being Careful of Rules Impressed on Minds of B. & O. Men.

Mr. Egan told the railroad men that, in his opinion, every employee is in duty bound to impress upon every fellow employee the importance of carefulness in his railroad work, and if after endeavoring to bring this about his efforts meet with failure, then it is his duty to place the matter before the proper official in order that a correction may be made.

"The proper meaning of conservation of men with regard to the railways of our country," said Mr. Egan, "is the prevention of accidents in which our best railway men are killed or injured and millions of dollars worth of equipment destroyed each year. In the last three months, according to statistics of our interstate railways, $2,500,000 was paid in repairs to engines and cars as the result of accidents which could have been prevented. When the statement is made that the accidents resulting in this destruction of property could have been prevented, the fact is established by investigation of the Interstate Commerce Commission, which shows that 85 to 90 per cent. of the accidents on our railways occur through carelessness."

"The greatest risk to competent and careful men, is the risk of serious injury or death through the thoughtlessness or carelessness of their fellow-men. As stated only 10 to 15 per cent. of the accidents are the result of defective equipment or insufficient maintenance."

"When you find a fellow-workman, who is careless it is your duty to teach him to be careful, and if you cannot teach him to be careful, it is your duty to call the matter to official attention. It is a duty that you owe yourselves and your fellowmen. It is a duty that you owe your family and it is a duty that you owe the company."

"You must remember that in nine cases out of ten it is better to delay a train than to cause an accident; in nine cases out of ten it takes less time to prevent an accident than it takes to make out a personal injury report and it also takes longer to explain why you did a thing wrong than it does to do it right. You must remember that every time one of your fellow-workmen is killed, it not only brings pain and suffering and sorrow into the household, but necessitates the employment of a 'green' man in his place and thereby lessens efficiency and makes your risks of employment greater."

He made it plain to the railroad men that in most cases where an infraction of rules had resulted in a loss to the railroad company, or perhaps a personal injury to the employee, it would have actually caused less effort to regard the rules than to disregard them.

Mr. Egan is regarded as an expert on the subject he spoke of at Harper's Ferry, having made similar talks to various sections of the railroad men throughout the country.

He was President of the National Association of Railway Claim Agents, embracing a membership of the Claim Agents and Claims Attorneys of the large American and Canadian railroad systems and delivered a similar address before the convention of that association.

To the railroad men at Harper's Ferry, Mr. Egan pointed out that a majority of the railroad mishaps are a result of inadvertence on the part of the men themselves, or the act of a fellow servant.

He cited to his hearers that in most cases more time is consumed making a report of an accident to superior officer than would have been necessary to take precautionary steps to prevent it.

As Mr. Egan expressed it, "more time is taken up explaining a non-observance of rules which caused an accident than would have been required in the correct performance of duty and consequent avoidance of injury or damage to equipment."

He made it plain to the railroad men that in most cases where an infraction of rules had resulted in a loss to the railroad company, or perhaps a personal injury to the employee, it would have actually caused less effort to regard the rules than to disregard them.

Mr. Egan is regarded as an expert on the subject he spoke of at Harper's Ferry, having made similar talks to various sections of the railroad men throughout the country.

He was President of the National Association of Railway Claim Agents, embracing a membership of the Claim Agents and Claims Attorneys of the large American and Canadian railroad systems and delivered a similar address before the convention of that association.

To the railroad men at Harper's Ferry, Mr. Egan pointed out that a majority of the railroad mishaps are a result of inadvertence on the part of the men themselves, or the act of a fellow servant.

He cited to his hearers that in most cases more time is consumed making a report of an accident to superior officer than would have been necessary to take precautionary steps to prevent it.

As Mr. Egan expressed it, "more time is taken up explaining a non-observance of rules which caused an accident than would have been required in the correct performance of duty and consequent avoidance of injury or damage to equipment."

He made it plain to the railroad men that in most cases where an infraction of rules had resulted in a loss to the railroad company, or perhaps a personal injury to the employee, it would have actually caused less effort to regard the rules than to disregard them.

Mr. Egan is regarded as an expert on the subject he spoke of at Harper's Ferry, having made similar talks to various sections of the railroad men throughout the country.

He was President of the National Association of Railway Claim Agents, embracing a membership of the Claim Agents and Claims Attorneys of the large American and Canadian railroad systems and delivered a similar address before the convention of that association.

To the railroad men at Harper's Ferry, Mr. Egan pointed out that a majority of the railroad mishaps are a result of inadvertence on the part of the men themselves, or the act of a fellow servant.

He cited to his hearers that in most cases more time is consumed making a report of an accident to superior officer than would have been necessary to take precautionary steps to prevent it.

As Mr. Egan expressed it, "more time is taken up explaining a non-observance of rules which caused an accident than would have been required in the correct performance of duty and consequent avoidance of injury or damage to equipment."

He made it plain to the railroad men that in most cases where an infraction of rules had resulted in a loss to the railroad company, or perhaps a personal injury to the employee, it would have actually caused less effort to regard the rules than to disregard them.

REGISTER AND CLERK'S NOTICE.

The following Executors, Administrators, Guardians and Trustees have settled their respective accounts in the office of the Register and Clerk of Orphans' Court, and the same will be presented for confirmation to the Orphans' Court of Fayette County, at the Court House, Uniontown, on MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 4, 1911.

No.	Intestate of	Accountants.	Filed.
1.	Wallace, Charles G.	Annie B. Wallace, administratrix.	June 1, 1911
2.	Murphy, Lillian Jane	Ida K. Doran, administratrix.	June 10, 1911
3.	Riley, Mary Ann	Charles F. Hixenbaugh, Administrator, d. b. n. c. t. a.	June 21, 1911
4.	Fletcher, Sarah E.	Edward S. Vaughn, Executor.	June 22, 1911
5.	Junk, Nancy	John H. Junk and T. Harvey Smith, Executors.	July 1, 1911
6.	Miller, Jonathan E.	Robert H. Wright, Administrator.	July 17, 1911
7.	Brown, Henry E.	A. R. Loucks and J. C. Brown, Executors.	July 22, 1911
8.	McBride, Armas	Payette T. & T. Co., Guardian.	July 24, 1911
9.	Brooks, Amelia K.	James G. Crossland, Administrator.	July 25, 1911
10.	Porter, Lizzie M., now Lizzie	Charles S. Hempstead, Guardian.	July 25, 1911
11.	Porter, Katie, now Katie Porter	Charles S. Hempstead, Guardian.	July 25, 1911
12.	Seeler, Margaret	Philip Seeler, Executor.	July 25, 1911
13.	Nieman, Daniel W.	Nina L. Nieman, Administratrix.	July 28, 1911
14.	McClary, Edwin	Gilbert Cope, Executor.	July 29, 1911
15.	Hicks, Andrew J.	Clam M. Hicks, Administratrix.	July 31, 1911
16.	Greenlee, William A.	B. C. Strickler and J. T. Neel, Executors.	July 31, 1911
17.	Husted, Moses	Harry C. and Guy J. Husted, Administrators.	July 31, 1911
18.	Adkins, William A.	Payette T. & T. Co., Guardian.	July 31, 1911
19.	Henry, William	Albert H. Henry, Administrator.	July 31, 1911
20.	McLey, James R.	Dr. M. H. Cloud, Executor.	Aug. 1, 1911
21.	Foundstone, Mary A.	William S. Green, Executor.	Aug. 1, 1911
22.	McCune, Mary Jane	W. S. Craft, Administrator.	Aug. 2, 1911
23.	Sparks, Frances Davis	Payette T. & T. Co., Guardian.	Aug. 2, 1911
24.	Shapiro, Ralph H.	Payette T. & T. Co., Guardian.	Aug. 2, 1911
25.	Morgan, Daniel F.	William H. Morgan and Thomas Lyons Morgan, Executors.	Aug. 3, 1911
26.	Borror, Daniel	Payette T. & T. Co., Guardian.	Aug. 3, 1911
27.	Hider, Isaac	Joseph C. Rider, Executor.	Aug. 3, 1911
28.	Dall, Joseph L.	Charles Dall and Altha Dall, Administrators.	Aug. 3, 1911
29.	O'Neil, James F.	John H. O'Neil, Administrator.	Aug. 4, 1911

Register and Clerk of Orphans' Court, Uniontown, Pa., Aug. 5, 1911.

AUDIT NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that the above accounts will be taken up for audit and distribution before James C. Work, President Judge of the Orphans' Court of Fayette County, at the Court House at 10 o'clock on each of the following days, viz: Accounts Nos. 1 to 6 inclusive on Monday, Sept. 18, 1911; Nos. 7 to 14 inclusive on Wednesday, Sept. 20, 1911; Nos. 15 to 22 inclusive on Thursday, Sept. 21, 1911; Nos. 23 to 30 inclusive on Friday, Sept. 22, 1911, which cases will be called for hearing on the day and time set forth in the above notice, at which time and place creditors, heirs and all other persons interested shall attend, if they see fit, and present their claims against the said estate, or forever be barred coming upon said fund.

CHARLES O. SCHROYER,
Clerk of Orphans' Court.

Bargain Sale of Building Lots

South Connellsville is Connellsville's most promising suburb. It is not isolated. The town is built up from Connellsville's business center to the uttermost limit of South Connellsville. In South Connellsville are:

THE HUMBERT TIN PLATE MILL of the American Sheet & Tin Plate Company, employing 300 hands, mostly well paid workmen.
THE PITTSBURG SAFE COMPANY'S plant employing upwards of 100 men, skilled laborers.
THE WILDER METAL COATING COMPANY'S plant employing more than a score of workmen.
THE RIPLEY GLASS WORKS, in course of construction, which will employ some 100 hands. This plant will be ready for operation this fall.
Within a short walk are the Baltimore & Ohio yards and shops and the West Penn power plant, while the Keystone Tube Works Company is erecting a plant just across the river which will employ over 100 men.

THE PRICES:

They speak for themselves. Nowhere in the suburbs of Connellsville can good lots be purchased at treble the money. We have for sale:

10 LOTS AT	$300	62 LOTS AT	$100
15 LOTS AT	$250	2 LOTS AT	$85
7 LOTS AT	$225	42 LOTS AT	$75
27 LOTS AT	$200	1 LOT AT	$65
6 LOTS AT	$150	33 LOTS AT	$50
10 LOTS AT	$125	13 LOTS AT	$40

ALL MODERN ADVANTAGES.

There are no other lots better provided with the conveniences of living, which make real estate valuable, among them may be mentioned:

TROLLEY SERVICE.—Only ten minutes from center of Connellsville. Only one fare, with exchange for the main line.
CITY WATER.—The mains of the Connellsville Water Company are laid on the principle streets.
ELECTRIC LIGHT.—The electric light service of Connellsville extends to South Connellsville.
NATURAL GAS.—The mains of the Fayette County Gas Company traverse the principle thoroughfares of South Connellsville.
PUBLIC SCHOOLS.—A new public school building has been erected in the heart of South Connellsville, while within a few blocks of the village is the Gibson High School, said to be one of the best township High Schools in this section.

The fact that these lots are the best real estate bargains in Connellsville suburbs is being impressed upon the people and sale are brisk in consequence. Better buy while they last. They will be higher when the population is increased by the new plants.

EASY PAYMENTS.—These lots are sold on poor men's terms.

Connellsville Extension Co.,

Office, The Courier Building.

Connellsville, Pa.

SYRUP OF FIGS AND ELIXIR OF SENNA

Cleanses the System effectually; Disperses colds and Headaches, due to constipation. Best for men, women and children; young and old.

To get its Beneficial effects, always note the name of the Company, CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO. plainly printed on the front of every package of the Genuine

Notes from the Labor World. Thirty-eight cents is the daily wage rate for blacksmiths in Shanghai, China.

President Leguia of Peru has signed what is known as the Peruvian employers' liability law.

San Jose, Cal.—Institutions that employ members of the military crafts have been thoroughly unionized.

The twenty-seventh annual session of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada will convene at Calgary September 11.

On August 7, at Niagara Falls, the United Powder and High Explosive Workers of America will hold their annual convention.

At the next Dominion general election the labor party will have candidates in the field in every important city in Canada.

A child labor bill recently passed the Tennessee legislature, fixing the age limit of factory employment at fourteen years, and only excepting agricultural and domestic service.

The Quarry Workers' International Union of North America reports that thirty-eight local unions have this year affected new agreements which run from one to five years, and with an increase in wages of from 1 to 5 cents per hour.

The last annual report of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen showed $2,000,000 was paid in death and disability claims by the organization during the past year.

Arrangements have been made for the holding of a national convention of the unemployed at Washington, D. C., to be in session from September 1 to 10. J. Ruda How of St. Louis is the head of the organization.

Stationary firemen and steam engineers employed by all the Minneapolis breweries have been successful in their efforts to renew their agreement with the employers and to obtain an increase in their pay.

The organization committee of the Minneapolis Trades and Labor Assembly has recently succeeded in organizing a shoe repairers' union in affiliation with the National Boot and Shoe Workers' Union.

The number of women employed in Germany according to the latest statistical reports is 6,400,000; in France, 6,800,000; in Austria, 5,000,000; and in England, 5,400,000. The women are employed in manufacture and trades.

PROTECTION AT HOME OR ABROAD

A $4.00 DICTIONARY FOR EVERYBODY

That Reads The Courier

PRESENTATION

The result of good fortune is the knowledge of good English. AT HOME OR ABROAD one should have this protection and knowledge. Go where you will, into the depth of ignorance or the height of education, and you will find yourself in need at all times of that one great fortune, and that is a handy reference guide of the correct English language. Confusion of mind to quick answer is the cause of a great deal of embarrassment amongst all classes of people.

There is only one enlightenment to the correct and true path of knowledge, and that is through the WEBSTER'S NEW STANDARD DICTIONARY ILLUSTRATED—a book that no family, student or business man can afford to be without. The Courier offers to help you along this path if you will but read what follows:

All You Need to Do is to
Cut Out Six Dictionary Coupons
of Consecutive Dates from
The Daily Courier

And present them with the expense bonus amount set opposite any style selected, (which covers the items of cost of packing, express from factory, checking, clerk hire, and other necessary expense items.)

THIS ILLUSTRATES THE $4.00 BOOK.

Based upon Noah Webster's Dictionary, revised and brought UP-TO-DATE in accordance with the most recent eminent English and American authorities on spelling, pronunciation and definition, and especially designed to meet the popular demand for a CONVENIENT, complete and RELIABLE Dictionary. It contains all the words of the English language that are not peculiarly appropriate to a Dictionary of technical terms; it gives the Spelling and Pronunciation of Plurals, and indicates the use of capital and small letters in writing every word in the vocabulary; it gives the Past Tense and the Participles of all verbs not regularly formed by the addition of -d, -ed, and -ing; the Pronunciation of each word is plainly indicated by phonetic spelling; the Definitions, comprehensive, yet concise, are accurate and reliable.

BOUND LIKE A BIBLE

No other similar Dictionary ever printed contains such a wealth of new ideas, or so many valuable aids to a thorough mastery of the English language.

THIS IS AN ILLUSTRATED DICTIONARY

The illustrations, including Colored and Monotone Plates and Colored Charts, are the most complete, elaborate and expensive that have ever appeared in any Dictionary. Six hundred and fifty subjects are illustrated by the Colored Plates, nearly 50 by the Monotone, and 28 by the charts.

THERE IS NO EXCUSE No man, woman or child living in the vast territory covered by The Courier need be without this Dictionary, which is an absolute essential to correct speech. It matters not how much you know, there is always room for improvement in daily conversation. If you will but familiarize yourself with this LATEST DICTIONARY you will be surprised at some of the words you are using. Elegance of speech goes hand in hand with elegance of manner. Proper use of words is the first requisite to good society.

Mail Orders Must Include 22 Cents Extra to Pay Postage

Take Your Choice of The Books

The $4.00
Webster's
New Standard
Dictionary

(Like illustration) is bound in full Limp Leather, flexible, stamped in gold on back and sides, printed on Bible paper, with red edges and corners rounded; beautiful, strong, durable. Besides the general contents as described elsewhere, there are over 600 subjects beautifully illustrated by three color plates, nearly 50 subjects by monotone, and 16 pages of valuable charts in two colors and the 1910 Census. Six consecutive Coupons and the

Expense Bonus of
98c

A MOST BEAUTIFUL BOOK

The $3.00
Webster's
New Standard
Dictionary

is exactly the same as the $4.00 book, except in the style of binding, which is in half leather, with olive edges, and square corners. Six consecutive Dictionary Coupons and the

Expense Bonus of
81c

The $2.00
Webster's
New Standard
Dictionary

is in plain cloth binding, stamped in gold and black; same paper, same illustrations, but has all colored plates and charts omitted. Six consecutive Dictionary Coupons and the

Expense Bonus of
48c

ANY BOOK BY MAIL, 22 CENTS EXTRA FOR POSTAGE.

NO MAN'S LAND A ROMANCE

By LOUIS JOSEPH VANCE
ILLUSTRATIONS BY RAY WATERS
COPYRIGHT, 1911, BY LOUIS JOSEPH VANCE

From behind them came a long, drawn, piercing yell:
"Black, O Black! Abo-o-o-y!"
Blackstock lifted his head with an effort.

CHAPTER XIX.

By the time they had passed through the Cold Lairs, Katherine's strength began to fail. The rapid pace at which they had made the ascent from the beach had told upon her more than Const would have realized, but for insupportable evidences of distress she betrayed, her jagged footsteps and her labored breathing. Passing an arm round her waist, he held her up and gave her what support and help he could, but when they had gained the summit of the first ridge inland, between the farm-house and deserted village, he had to pause and rest.

From that point of vantage, with the broad crescent of the beach spread out beneath their gaze, they watched the landing of the police-boat.

Like some huge water insect of many legs, black body silhouetted against the silvered sea, it sped in a score, four long ears to a side dipping and lifting with the rhythmic beat of a perfect piece of machinery.

Then of a sudden with precise accord the oars were lifted and laid in; at slowly decreasing speed the long-boat slipped through the shoaling waters and nosed the sands. Four figures leaped overboard and grasping the thwart hauled the bows high up on the beach. Others followed, some lingering to help drag the long-boat out of the tide's limits, some trotting to Blackstock's aid.

With difficulty, because of the momentarily fading light, Const counted the company of the newcomers, they numbered, as nearly as he could estimate, ten. With Blackstock and Chang, that meant twelve to two—fourteen to two, if he were to include the two eekles in the farm-house.

He withheld a groan of dismay, and tightened his arm round the woman's waist, unconsciously concentrating his life to her defense. Blackstock should remember her only when he, Const, had fallen fighting.

Dimly through the gloaming he saw Blackstock lifted to his feet before the throng closed round him, a vague dark blur about the boat. From the east the tall, gaunt figure of Chang was moving with slow and steady strides back to join them.

As yet there was no indication of pursuit.

None the less, Const stirred uneasily and glanced in solicitude down at the pale oval of the face resting wearily against his shoulder.

"Feeling better?" he inquired gently. "Do you think you can walk, dear?"

She drew in a deep breath and nodded assent. "I'm all right, now," she said, though still her respiration sounded hard and uneven. "At least, I will be presently. . . . Are they coming?" she asked with a start.

"No," he answered. "They're not worrying about us. We can't get far—not off the island. When we're wanted, they'll find us easily enough. I'm afraid. For the present, Blackstock's entertaining them with the story of his misadventure." He laughed shortly. "Come," he said, and they turned again inland, moving at a brisk walk toward the farm-house, with what purpose neither could have said.

"But that moment later," he asked suddenly, a moment later. "Where under Heaven did she drop from? You spoke of the schooner. . . ."

"It's ashore," she told him. "I saw it all from the bungalow. . . . I had been inside, looking for my trunk keys. I couldn't seem to find them at first. He was in the wireless-room when I went in, but by the time I found the keys he had disappeared. I went to the door and stood looking out, wondering what had become of him and whether I dared risk a return to the beach—and you—while it was still so light; and suddenly the schooner shot out of the mist a little south of the point, over there in the west. She was running under power—I could just hear the engine chugging—and I don't think they suspected how close they were to the island. At all events, the next instant she struck—stopped short as if she had run against a wall, quite a distance out; and in a moment her stern was under water. I saw the crew putting out the long boat and jumping in it; and then I ran down to the beach."

"She's the one," he said abstractedly. "The schooner Appleyard was after beyond doubt. You heard them hail Blackstock by name—by the name they know him under."

The woman said "Yes," indifferently, leaning more heavily upon him.

Out of the dusk, in which objects were just perceptible, the bungalow loomed up before them. By common consent they paused, Const looking back toward the beach, Katherine peering up into his face.

"Are they coming, Garrett?"

"Not yet," he said, perplexity in his tone. "It's as I thought: they know they can lay hands on us at any time. So we can go hang until they're ready to take up our case."

"But," he amended, squaring his shoulders and his jaw and infusing his manner with a confidence and decision he had been glad to feel, "we'll feel 'em it won't be long now."

"You mean before your friend—Mr. Appleyard?"

"Yes. He's sure to be here at almost any minute—be it the revenue cutter."

"But, Garrett. . . . what are we going to do in the meantime?"

"We'll have to stick to the open till the Echo comes. Is there a lantern in the house—anything to make a light with?"

"Why—yes," she replied in surprise; "there's a kerosene lantern we used at night, when it was necessary to go to the farm-house. But wouldn't it lead them to us? Isn't darkness our surest cover?"

"Absolutely; but I've got to have something to signal Appleyard with. We agreed that I should show a light on the sand pit, in event of any trouble; but he'll be counting on the cutter being here by this time, and it won't do to let him make a landing on the beach near the long boat."

"I understand. Just a minute. . . . Is there time?"

"Plenty," he said briefly, adding inconsistently: "But hurry."

He followed her into the house and, while she disappeared to look for the lantern, found his way to the divan and robbed it of its covering—a heavy steamer rug, which he folded and tucked beneath one arm before Katherine returned.

"You won't want the light now?"

"No. Give me your hand."

They stepped out into unrelieved night: darkness, dense and warm and rendered tangible by its burden of humidity.

In the north arose a confusion of many voices; and in that quarter, likewise, was a fiery show of waving lantern light.

Hand in hand they stole away like thieves, not three minutes before the bungalow was invaded by Blackstock and the crew of the schooner—a loud mouthed, roystering company, making hideous the night with the clamor of their disputations and their oaths.

Unseen and all unthought (so far as they could say, with no sign given them of either detection or pursuit) they hurried off as wily and fearfully as wild things skirting the haunts of men, skulking silently over hills and down through hollows, over fields and fences, until at length they came without accident out upon the spreading sweep of sand to the east of the long, low-lying spit.

Late, they found themselves at the end of this northern extremity of the island; and here Const put down the unlighted lantern and spread the rug in a slight depression between low dunes. . . .

Cimmerian murk encompassed them, abysmal, impenetrable, penetrated only by dimmed rays of light from the windows of the bungalow, seemingly in calculable miles distant.

Slowly the hours ebbed. They had long since ceased to speak. From the regularity of her breathing Const believed she slept deeply, her form, overcome by thorough exhaustion of every fiber, nerve and faculty. For himself he would not stir for fear of waking her.

The light of a lantern peeped over the ridge, inland, and descended wavering, through the Cold Lairs to the beach, then became stationary near the edge of the water, over which it shot a long, slender spear of soft radiance.

He understood that a guard had lately been set over the schooner-boat. From the bungalow came this, far sounds of voices, now and then a husky shout cacophonous in that hour of calm, immutable peace.

They were drinking up there, forgetful alike of danger and their recent disaster. . . .

Abruptly he saw that the lane of lantern light was shattered and dancing. He jumped to his feet, with a glance above that showed him a faint flash of starlight. He held up his hand and a breath of air blew cool against it—a shiver of breeze out of the southwest. All this meant clearing.

Swiftly the breeze freshened. Vague forms of mist faded before his straining sight. A musical whisper and clashing of waves echoed through the hush of night. And like a curtain the fog fell back and away, and was not. About two miles offshore, to the northwest, a green light shone like a colored star, with a white light a little above it, about the height of the Echo's masthead. And while he looked the two moved and swung round until he saw not only green and white, but the red port light as well, all moving steadily toward the island.

CHAPTER XX.

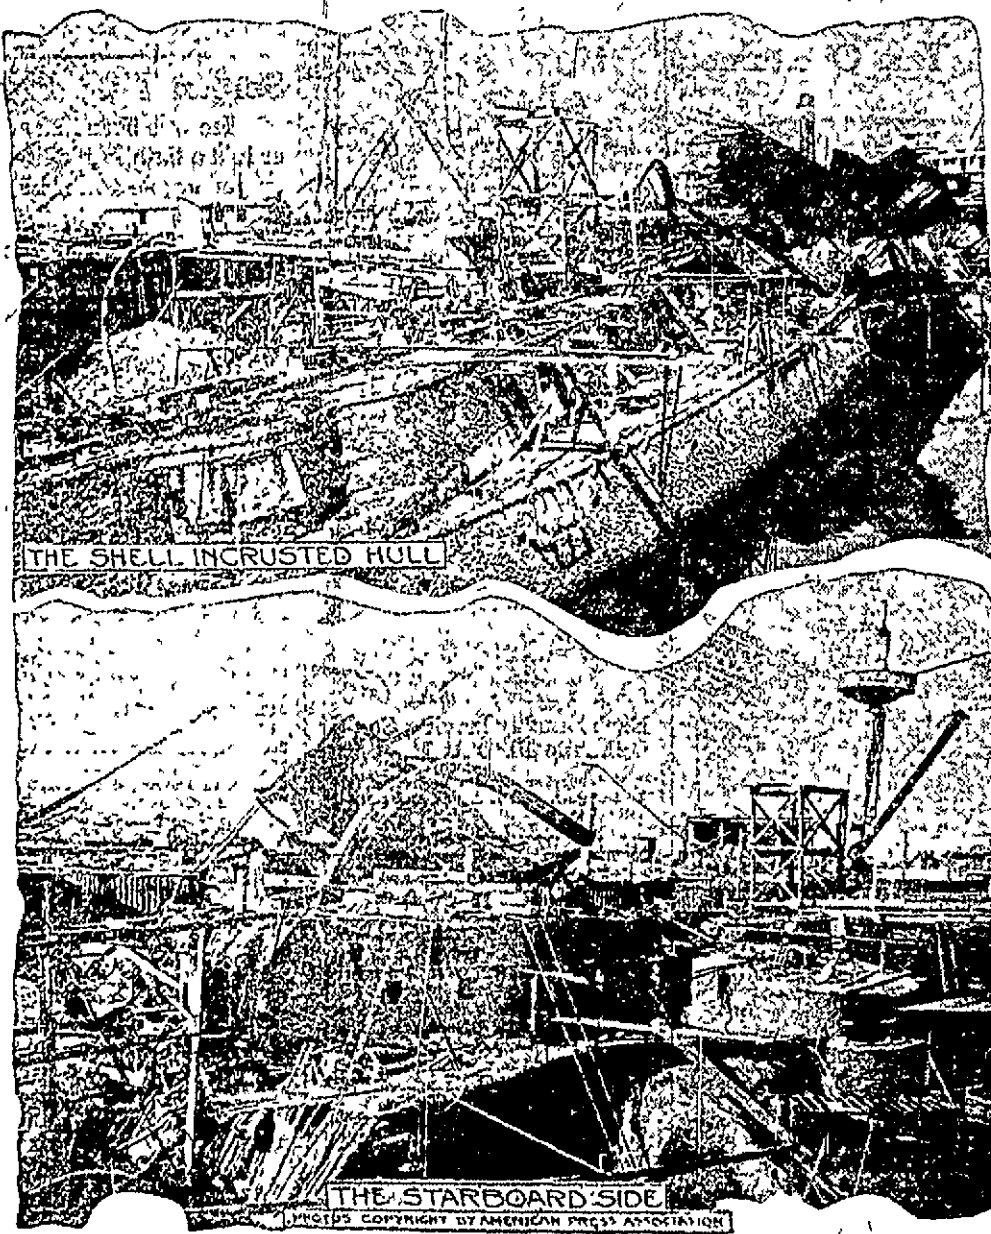

In his arms Katherine moved with a stifled moan of weariness, a gasp, and then a stifling of her body while he told him that she was now wide awake and mistress of her wit, in full comprehension of their position.

"Katherine!"

"What is it?"

"The Echo—Appleyard, I think—I'm sure. He'll be here in just a few minutes."

How the Battleship Maine Appears Now in Havana Harbor.

THE STARBOARD SIDE. ILLUSTRATION BY AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION.

utes—ten or fifteen, and you must help me show the light."

"Help me up," she said in a dejected voice.

He rose and took her hands, lifting her to her feet. With one thought up, perched in both minds, they turned toward the sea.

Off to the northwest the red port and white masthead lights of the cat boat were slipping briskly shoreward—the green no longer visible—standing in for the beach where the long-boat lay.

A groan escaped Const. "Oh, the devil!" he said beneath his breath, exasperated, and aloud, half frantically. "Hurry! He's taking the other light for my signal. Here!"

He grabbed up the steamer rug and thrust it unceremoniously into Katherine's hand—"hold this, to hide it from the beach, while I light the lantern."

With agonizing slowness the minutes sped, and still the boat held on directly for the beach below the Cold Lairs. Then abruptly the watcher by the long boat awakened to his approach, apparently for the first time, and sounded the alarm by firing a shot from his revolver. A second later, in desperation, Const sent a piercing whistle echoing over the waters.

Immediately at the pistol shot, the Echo swerved sharply off to the west, her red side light disappeared, and for a full minute held on as before she swung smartly on her heel and showed first the green and then the red, bearing straight as an arrow for the end of the sand spit.

On the island, at the same time, the results of the report (which, when the catboat came about, was followed by four others in brisk succession) were no less marked. Down the wind from the bungalow floated a wild chorus of shouts and calls in its vicinity half a dozen twinkling lights studied the darkness on the uplands, springing to life as if by magic, and were whisked hither and thither like so many will-o'-the-wisps, suggesting a stupid, half-distracted ferment of conflicting advice, argument and will among the smugglers. Presently, however, some sort of order was evidently evolved; the lights converged to a common center and bore swiftly down toward the beach.

Const put down the lantern on the swelling, rounded summit of a small dune, and took the steamer rug from Katherine, mechanically folding it as he divided troubled attention between the nearing boat and the distant rattle—now streaming headlong down through the Cold Lairs and shouting as they came.

"No more need for this," he said, referring to the rug, "the light won't tell them anything they don't know, now. But . . . His perturbed voice trailed off irresolutely as he stood, a frowning glance directed down the beach.

Katherine was quick to catch the note of worry in his tone. "What is it?" she asked. "You're not afraid—you don't think—"

"No," he reassured her stoutly; "they're much too far away to catch us now. Only—hark to that!"

There was, in fact, a strange and sinister sound in the yelping of the gang; their cries were indistinguishable, but owned a dull, level pitch of fantasy—ten or fifteen, and you must help me show the light."

"Help me up," she said in a dejected voice.

He rose and took her hands, lifting her to her feet. With one thought up, perched in both minds, they turned toward the sea.

Off to the northwest the red port and white masthead lights of the cat boat were slipping briskly shoreward—the green no longer visible—standing in for the beach where the long-boat lay.

A groan escaped Const. "Oh, the devil!" he said beneath his breath, exasperated, and aloud, half frantically. "Hurry! He's taking the other light for my signal. Here!"

He grabbed up the steamer rug and thrust it unceremoniously into Katherine's hand—"hold this, to hide it from the beach, while I light the lantern."

With agonizing slowness the minutes sped, and still the boat held on directly for the beach below the Cold Lairs. Then abruptly the watcher by the long boat awakened to his approach, apparently for the first time, and sounded the alarm by firing a shot from his revolver. A second later, in desperation, Const sent a piercing whistle echoing over the waters.

Immediately at the pistol shot, the Echo swerved sharply off to the west, her red side light disappeared, and for a full minute held on as before she swung smartly on her heel and showed first the green and then the red, bearing straight as an arrow for the end of the sand spit.

On the island, at the same time, the results of the report (which, when the catboat came about, was followed by four others in brisk succession) were no less marked. Down the wind from the bungalow floated a wild chorus of shouts and calls in its vicinity half a dozen twinkling lights studied the darkness on the uplands, springing to life as if by magic, and were whisked hither and thither like so many will-o'-the-wisps, suggesting a stupid, half-distracted ferment of conflicting advice, argument and will among the smugglers. Presently, however, some sort of order was evidently evolved; the lights converged to a common center and bore swiftly down toward the beach.

Const put down the lantern on the swelling, rounded summit of a small dune, and took the steamer rug from Katherine, mechanically folding it as he divided troubled attention between the nearing boat and the distant rattle—now streaming headlong down through the Cold Lairs and shouting as they came.

"No more need for this," he said, referring to the rug, "the light won't tell them anything they don't know, now. But . . . His perturbed voice trailed off irresolutely as he stood, a frowning glance directed down the beach.

Katherine was quick to catch the note of worry in his tone. "What is it?" she asked. "You're not afraid—you don't think—"

"No," he reassured her stoutly; "they're much too far away to catch us now. Only—hark to that!"

There was, in fact, a strange and sinister sound in the yelping of the gang; their cries were indistinguishable, but owned a dull, level pitch of fantasy—ten or fifteen, and you must help me show the light."

"Help me up," she said in a dejected voice.

He rose and took her hands, lifting her to her feet. With one thought up, perched in both minds, they turned toward the sea.

Off to the northwest the red port and white masthead lights of the cat boat were slipping briskly shoreward—the green no longer visible—standing in for the beach where the long-boat lay.

A groan escaped Const. "Oh, the devil!" he said beneath his breath, exasperated, and aloud, half frantically. "Hurry! He's taking the other light for my signal. Here!"

He grabbed up the steamer rug and thrust it unceremoniously into Katherine's hand—"hold this, to hide it from the beach, while I light the lantern."

With agonizing slowness the minutes sped, and still the boat held on directly for the beach below the Cold Lairs. Then abruptly the watcher by the long boat awakened to his approach, apparently for the first time, and sounded the alarm by firing a shot from his revolver. A second later, in desperation, Const sent a piercing whistle echoing over the waters.

Immediately at the pistol shot, the Echo swerved sharply off to the west, her red side light disappeared, and for a full minute held on as before she swung smartly on her heel and showed first the green and then the red, bearing straight as an arrow for the end of the sand spit.

On the island, at the same time, the results of the report (which, when the catboat came about, was followed by four others in brisk succession) were no less marked. Down the wind from the bungalow floated a wild chorus of shouts and calls in its vicinity half a dozen twinkling lights studied the darkness on the uplands, springing to life as if by magic, and were whisked hither and thither like so many will-o'-the-wisps, suggesting a stupid, half-distracted ferment of conflicting advice, argument and will among the smugglers. Presently, however, some sort of order was evidently evolved; the lights converged to a common center and bore swiftly down toward the beach.

Const put down the lantern on the swelling, rounded summit of a small dune, and took the steamer rug from Katherine, mechanically folding it as he divided troubled attention between the nearing boat and the distant rattle—now streaming headlong down through the Cold Lairs and shouting as they came.

"No more need for this," he said, referring to the rug, "the light won't tell them anything they don't know, now. But . . . His perturbed voice trailed off irresolutely as he stood, a frowning glance directed down the beach.

Katherine was quick to catch the note of worry in his tone. "What is it?" she asked. "You're not afraid—you don't think—"

"No," he reassured her stoutly; "they're much too far away to catch us now. Only—hark to that!"

There was, in fact, a strange and sinister sound in the yelping of the gang; their cries were indistinguishable, but owned a dull, level pitch of fantasy—ten or fifteen, and you must help me show the light."

"Help me up," she said in a dejected voice.

He rose and took her hands, lifting her to her feet. With one thought up, perched in both minds, they turned toward the sea.

Off to the northwest the red port and white masthead lights of the cat boat were slipping briskly shoreward—the green no longer visible—standing in for the beach where the long-boat lay.

A groan escaped Const. "Oh, the devil!" he said beneath his breath, exasperated, and aloud, half frantically. "Hurry! He's taking the other light for my signal. Here!"

He grabbed up the steamer rug and thrust it unceremoniously into Katherine's hand—"hold this, to hide it from the beach, while I light the lantern."

With agonizing slowness the minutes sped, and still the boat held on directly for the beach below the Cold Lairs. Then abruptly the watcher by the long boat awakened to his approach, apparently for the first time, and sounded the alarm by firing a shot from his revolver. A second later, in desperation, Const sent a piercing whistle echoing over the waters.

Immediately at the pistol shot, the Echo swerved sharply off to the west, her red side light disappeared, and for a full minute held on as before she swung smartly on her heel and showed first the green and then the red, bearing straight as an arrow for the end of the sand spit.

On the island, at the same time, the results of the report (which, when the catboat came about, was followed by four others in brisk succession) were no less marked. Down the wind from the bungalow floated a wild chorus of shouts and calls in its vicinity half a dozen twinkling lights studied the darkness on the uplands, springing to life as if by magic, and were whisked hither and thither like so many will-o'-the-wisps, suggesting a stupid, half-distracted ferment of conflicting advice, argument and will among the smugglers. Presently, however, some sort of order was evidently evolved; the lights converged to a common center and bore swiftly down toward the beach.

Const put down the lantern on the swelling, rounded summit of a small dune, and took the steamer rug from Katherine, mechanically folding it as he divided troubled attention between the nearing boat and the distant rattle—now streaming headlong down through the Cold Lairs and shouting as they came.

"No more need for this," he said, referring to the rug, "the light won't tell them anything they don't know, now. But . . . His perturbed voice trailed off irresolutely as he stood, a frowning glance directed down the beach.

Katherine was quick to catch the note of worry in his tone. "What is it?" she asked. "You're not afraid—you don't think—"

"No," he reassured her stoutly; "they're much too far away to catch us now. Only—hark to that!"

There was, in fact, a strange and sinister sound in the yelping of the gang; their cries were indistinguishable, but owned a dull, level pitch of fantasy—ten or fifteen, and you must help me show the light."

"Help me up," she said in a dejected voice.

He rose and took her hands, lifting her to her feet. With one thought up, perched in both minds, they turned toward the sea.

Off to the northwest the red port and white masthead lights of the cat boat were slipping briskly shoreward—the green no longer visible—standing in for the beach where the long-boat lay.

A groan escaped Const. "Oh, the devil!" he said beneath his breath, exasperated, and aloud, half frantically. "Hurry! He's taking the other light for my signal. Here!"

He grabbed up the steamer rug and thrust it unceremoniously into Katherine's hand—"hold this, to hide it from the beach, while I light the lantern."

With agonizing slowness the minutes sped, and still the boat held on directly for the beach below the Cold Lairs. Then abruptly the watcher by the long boat awakened to his approach, apparently for the first time, and sounded the alarm by firing a shot from his revolver. A second later, in desperation, Const sent a piercing whistle echoing over the waters.

Immediately at the pistol shot, the Echo swerved sharply off to the west, her red side light disappeared, and for a full minute held on as before she swung smartly on her heel and showed first the green and then the red, bearing straight as an arrow for the end of the sand spit.

On the island, at the same time, the results of the report (which, when the catboat came about, was followed by four others in brisk succession) were no less marked. Down the wind from the bungalow floated a wild chorus of shouts and calls in its vicinity half a dozen twinkling lights studied the darkness on the uplands, springing to life as if by magic, and were whisked hither and thither like so many will-o'-the-wisps, suggesting a stupid, half-distracted ferment of conflicting advice, argument and will among the smugglers. Presently, however, some sort of order was evidently evolved; the lights converged to a common center and bore swiftly down toward the beach.

Const put down the lantern on the swelling, rounded summit of a small dune, and took the steamer rug from Katherine, mechanically folding it as he divided troubled attention between the nearing boat and the distant rattle—now streaming headlong down through the Cold Lairs and shouting as they came.

"No more need for this," he said, referring to the rug, "the light won't tell them anything they don't know, now. But . . . His perturbed voice trailed off irresolutely as he stood, a frowning glance directed down the beach.

Katherine was quick to catch the note of worry in his tone. "What is it?" she asked. "You're not afraid—you don't think—"

"No," he reassured her stoutly; "they're much too far away to catch us now. Only—hark to that!"

There was, in fact, a strange and sinister sound in the yelping of the gang; their cries were indistinguishable, but owned a dull, level pitch of fantasy—ten or fifteen, and you must help me show the light."

"Help me up," she said in a dejected voice.

He rose and took her hands, lifting her to her feet. With one thought up, perched in both minds, they turned toward the sea.

Off to the northwest the red port and white masthead lights of the cat boat were slipping briskly shoreward—the green no longer visible—standing in for the beach where the long-boat lay.

A groan escaped Const. "Oh, the devil!" he said beneath his breath, exasperated, and aloud, half frantically. "Hurry! He's taking the other light for my signal. Here!"

He grabbed up the steamer rug and thrust it unceremoniously into Katherine's hand—"hold this, to hide it from the beach, while I light the lantern."

With agonizing slowness the minutes sped, and still the boat held on directly for the beach below the Cold Lairs. Then abruptly the watcher by the long boat awakened to his approach, apparently for the first time, and sounded the alarm by firing a shot from his revolver. A second later, in desperation, Const sent a piercing whistle echoing over the waters.

Immediately at the pistol shot, the Echo swerved sharply off to the west, her red side light disappeared, and for a full minute held on as before she swung smartly on her heel and showed first the green and then the red, bearing straight as an arrow for the end of the sand spit.

On the island, at the same time, the results of the report (which, when the catboat came about, was followed by four others in brisk succession) were no less marked. Down the wind from the bungalow floated a wild chorus of shouts and calls in its vicinity half a dozen twinkling lights studied the darkness on the uplands, springing to life as if by magic, and were whisked hither and thither like so many will-o'-the-wisps, suggesting a stupid, half-distracted ferment of conflicting advice, argument and will among the smugglers. Presently, however, some sort of order was evidently evolved; the lights converged to a common center and bore swiftly down toward the beach.

Const put down the lantern on the swelling, rounded summit of a small dune, and took the steamer rug from Katherine, mechanically folding it as he divided troubled attention between the nearing boat and the distant rattle—now streaming headlong down through the Cold Lairs and shouting as they came.

"No more need for this," he said, referring to the rug, "the light won't tell them anything they don't know, now. But . . . His perturbed voice trailed off irresolutely as he stood, a frowning glance directed down the beach.

Katherine was quick to catch the note of worry in his tone. "What is it?" she asked. "You're not afraid—you don't think—"

"No," he reassured her stoutly; "they're much too far away to catch us now. Only—hark to that!"

There was, in fact, a strange and sinister sound in the yelping of the gang; their cries were indistinguishable, but owned a dull, level pitch of of lantern light. "Steady!" he begged between gasps. "Steady!" he begged between gasps.

"What's your game now?" demanded Const coldly, his attention distracted by the comforting sound of dipping oars and squealing rowlocks behind him.

"Game!" The man's eyes caught a curious glint of light from the lantern as they shifted swiftly, glancing aside long. "Game!" he flared in broken and hollow tones. "I'm in no shape for games now! For God's sake don't be hard on me. I've come to give myself up—to surrender."

"His announcement fell like a thun- derclap. Momentarily Const discredited his sense of hearing. "Surrender?" he muttered, incredulous. "You?" He cast a quick, cautious look round. There was no one else within the limits of his vision—not a figure nor a moving shadow. His gaze returned to the huge, creaking shape before them; Blackstock in a panic, trembling with fear and exhaustion, his plump face turned a pasty, unwholesome shade and largely blotched with dull, burning red, eyes like knots showing too much white and rolling restlessly, loose mouth a quiver, hands shaking, breath coming and going with a sound resembling the exhaust of a skipping motor. The devil said Const to himself, and aloud in accents hard and unrelenting "You'd best explain."

"With a sudden movement, the woman touched his arm.

"Don't trust him, Garrett!" she exclaimed. "You don't know him—don't, don't trust him!"

"I've no intention—" Const began. Inconspicuously they were treated to the incongruous spectacle of Blackstock on his knees, humbling himself first to the woman, then to the man he had wronged, fat, mottled, tremulous hands imploring them. "Not!" he pleaded, earnestly pitiful. "Don't say it! Have a little pity! My God! don't you know I'm dying? Don't leave me here to die like a dog, in the name of mercy!"

"Dying—" Const repeated, while Katherine bent forward, peering steadily into the man's face. "What do you mean by 'dying'?"

"Don't you understand—can't you see?" The plump, spotted hands fumbled at his throat, for the first time Const remarked that it was bandaged, and began to comprehend what right- ful fear was bringing the man to his feet. "That damn' dog!" Blackstock breathed convulsively—"he's done for me, if I don't get help—medical help—quick! He's torn my throat to tatters," he whispered; "I'm poisoned, poisoned! If you leave me here, I'll go mad and die mad—hydrophobia! Good God, have pity!"

He broke down completely for a moment or two, whining and blubbering and wringing his hands. It was plain that he was badly frightened, and not without reason.

Const glanced at Katherine, she wore a face of doubt

CLOSE CONTEST FOR LYNCH CUP.

Series Begins Monday Yet
Two Contestants Are in Doubt.

TWO DIVISIONS IN BALANCE

Second and Fourth Yet Undecided and Schedule Makers Are Somewhat
Nervous—Five Weeks' Battle Begins on August Seventh.

SCHEDULE FOR FIRST WEEK.

Thomas Lynch Cup Series—H. C. Frick
Coke Co. League.

Monday, August 7.
Olyphant-Wynn at Edenborn.
Division No. 4 at Leisenring.
Tuesday, August 8.
No games scheduled.
Wednesday, August 9.
Edenborn at Division No. 2.
Thursday, August 10.
Trauger at Division No. 4.
Friday, August 11.
No game scheduled.
Saturday, August 12.
Division No. 2 at Olyphant-Wynn.
Leisenring at Trauger.

With the pennant winners in two divisions yet doubtful and the Thomas Lynch Cup Series scheduled to start Monday, the executive committee of the H. C. Frick Coke Company's baseball leagues is "in the air," to use the vernacular. It is necessary to make the start next Monday in order that the finish will not run too late. As it is two five weeks will bring the deciding contestants down to the first week in September, which is rather late for twilight games.

Of the six divisions, the pennant race is settled in four. In the Second and Fourth divisions it is yet in doubt. It is expected that the games today will settle the argument and the executive committee is scheduled to meet in Connellsville and decide the winners, if possible.

The pennant winners of four divisions were Hecla No. 2 in the First division. This team is better known throughout the coke region as Trauger. It had little trouble sweeping the other three teams of the division off their feet and the outcome was never in doubt. In the Third division the Leisenring team was never in serious danger and romped under a wire an easy winner. There is a really no other pennant contest, among the other five teams of this division. In the Fifth division Leisenring won out and in the Sixth the Olyphant-Wynn combination.

The Second and Fourth divisions are in doubt. In the northern end the fight is between Scottsdale-Everton and Morewood. The Scottsdale office boys, with their Car Shops competitors, had things easy until financial difficulties threatened the disbandment of the team. Several games were forfeited and this left Morewood into the running.

In the Fourth division Leisenring, Continental No. 1 and Phillips are in the running with the first and last teams slight favorites. Leisenring has a game scheduled for this afternoon and will have to win to have a look in for the pennant. Although Leisenring never shown with pristine brilliancy in the Third division, it has been cutting a swath in Division No. 1. The Leisenring boys got under way in good style and it is believed they might have made things interesting had they remained in Division No. 3. The natural place for Leisenring, however, was in the Fourth division, and it was placed there soon after the season opened.

Although the schedule for the Thomas Lynch Cup Series has not been announced it is violating no confidence to state that, unless the executive committee makes a change this evening, Olyphant-Wynn is scheduled to go to Edenborn and the winner of the Fourth division to visit Leisenring on Monday evening. The team that will travel to Leisenring is yet in doubt but may be determined upon at this evening's meeting.

The contest for the cup promises to be a hot one. There will be three or four real contenders. Hecla No. 2, or Trauger, as it is better known, is undoubtedly the favorite among unbiased fans. Dunny O'Hara, the former Coker captain, has been with the Trauger boys all season and has instilled real baseball into the organization. He does not play, however, in the league games. In Puffer the team has the best pitcher in the Frick League, with Angus, another twirler of no mean ability, to fall back upon. The Trauger team has made up of heavy hitters and has won most of its games through superior batting ability. Taking the dope of the season just closed the wise fans can see nothing to it but Trauger. Edenborn is conceded second place and Leisenring third.

If the Scottsdale-Everton combination wins out in the Second Division it will be a large factor. Sam Brown, formerly of the Boston Nationals, is playing great ball this year after it had been thought in some quarters he was down and out. Last year unkind fans said the only thing Brown had left was his walk, but the former big leaguer has nailed this season by his brilliant work in the field and at bat throughout this season. With Horne on the rubber and Brown in form, together with the other Car Shops stars in line, Scottsdale-Everton will have to be reckoned with. Should Morewood win the pennant the Secand Division cannot be seriously considered as a pennant possibility.

Opera Singer Who Will Recover From Injuries in Auto Wreck, And the Car That Overturned.

Leisenring can be depended upon to make the Third Division heard from during the series. The Leisenring team is much stronger this year than last. The boys have shown that improvement that comes with continued practice and there is little chance in the makeup of the team this season over last. With Bill Sheetz in form the pitching department is somewhat stronger than last year, as Finley has also been doing good work in the box. Leisenring has been making life miserable for opposing twirlers this year and the entire team is batting consistently.

Edenborn is the hope of the south end. Leisenring, formerly with Uniontown, has been doing the bulk of the twirling, but what he will show against heavy hitting teams like Trauger and Scottsdale-Everton remains to be seen. Edenborn must be considered a dangerous contestant.

Olyphant-Wynn and the winner of the Fourth Division are two teams that need not be regarded seriously, as far as pennant chances are concerned, but both teams have shown unexpected strength at times and might upset the calculations of the teams that think they will be in the running.

In any event there will be some mighty clever baseball exhibited during the five weeks' race and the games will be well worth seeing. It is to be hoped that the executive committee will make arrangements for proper police protection at all games here and there have drifted unpleasant stories of rowdy tactics on the part of spectators and unless those militant spirits are curbed early in the contest there may be disastrous consequences. The umpires will likely be selected this evening.

Shyne Now Heads Minstrel Company

Frank T. Shyne, former treasurer of the Selsman theatre, is just now filling the role of producing manager and is gathering in the shokels with the Jolly Bachelor Minstrels. With a company of 25 Shyne is doing the summer resorts of the Thousand Islands and the Adirondacks.

In a letter to The Courier Shyne states that he is playing to capacity business. At the time of writing he had just separated Watertown, N. Y., from a large sized war, was in Clayton that evening meeting a big advance sale and expected to strike Thousand Island Park the next night. The minstrel company is made up entirely of Syracuse talent and for several seasons have found profit and pleasure in visiting the "north country."

May Soon Reinstated Magee.
NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—President Lynch of the National League said last night that in view of the player's promise of future good behavior he might soon raise the suspension inflicted against Sherwood Magee of the Philadelphia Club. He declared, however, that if Magee is allowed to re-enter the game it would be with the understanding that he was on strict probation.

Statistler compiled by Deputy State Labor Commissioner Edwin V. Brake shows that 31,331 miners are employed in Colorado. Of these 14,795 are working in coal mines, and the remainder in the various metal mines and mills.

Have you tried our classified ads?

BASEBALL.

RESULTS YESTERDAY.

National League.
Pittsburgh 5, New York 4.
Cincinnati 1, Philadelphia 0.
Other teams not scheduled.

American League.
Washington 1, Chicago 0.
Washington 2, Chicago 2.
Cleveland 10, New York 3.
Philadelphia 1, St. Louis 2.
Boston 7, Detroit 4.

STANDING OF THE CLUBS.

Chicago	National League	24	423
New York		27	466
Pittsburgh		27	466
Philadelphia		28	504
St. Louis		28	524
Cincinnati		40	513
Brooklyn		55	572
Boston		59	572
Philadelphia	American League	24	410
Detroit		25	430
Boston		28	525
Chicago		28	505
New York		30	505
Cleveland		31	505
Washington		38	511
St. Louis		39	506

FIFTH DIVISION STANDING.

Frick League.

Following is the final standing of the fifth division in the Frick League:
Edenborn 3, 11 5 204
Pittsburgh 11 5 204
Pottsville 10 10 174
Ronce 11 11 204
Lockport 11 17 205

Baseball Notes.

Charlie (Duke) Farrell, the former Highlander scout, is scouting for the Washington team.

The New York Americans have purchased Pitcher George Clark, of the Sioux City Western League team.

Ty Cobb, of the Tigers, is still the best hitter, runner and base-stealer in the major leagues.

The Cleveland youngsters are showing class and helping the Naps to climb in the American League race.

"German" Schaefer is still on the job at first for Washington and playing the bag like a real first baseman.

With Baltimore and Toronto fighting all the way, Rochester will find it a tough job to win the Eastern League pennant.

Russell Blackburn, who has been out of the game with an injured knee, will return to the White Sox while the team is in the East.

In Salee, Harmon and Steel the St. Louis Cardinals have three pitchers that look good enough to work in a world's championship series.

Veteran pitchers are fading away. The two greatest twirlers in the major leagues today are youngsters, Greig of Cleveland and Alexander of Philadelphia.

Minor leagues in Kansas, Missouri and Arkansas have been up against it this season. The Kansas State, the Missouri State and the Arkansas State leagues, and the Western Asso-

BALTIMORE & OHIO Next Excursion to Atlantic City AUGUST 10th

Other dates August 24th and September 7th. Tickets good returning within 16 days.

SPECIAL EXCURSION TO PITTSBURG Sundays Aug. 6 and 20. $1.00

Train leaves Connellsville 8.45 A. M. Returning leaves Pittsburgh 6.40 P. M. stopping at Braddock and McKeesport in both ways.

Special Excursion TO CUMBERLAND August 6th, $1.50

Train leaves Connellsville 8.00 A. M. returning leaves Cumberland 6.00 P. M. A delightful trip.

To Ohiopyle 50c To Killarney Park 65c Each Sunday leaving Con- nellsville 10.10 A. M.

For further details apply to H. L. Douglas, Ticket Agent, Connellsville.

elation have closed up shop and gone home.

A large sign at the White Sox park in Chicago proclaims the fact that Gotsch and Hackenschmidt will wrestle on the grounds on September 4. President Taylor of the Boston Red Sox is trying to land Tex Jones, now with St. Joseph in the Western League. Jones had a trial with the Chicago White Sox this spring, but was sent back to the minors.

With the Boxers.
Fred Storbeck, the South African heavyweight, is coming to this country next month.

Both Jim Barry and Tony Rosa are eager to hook up in a nuss with Jim Flynn.

Carl Morris wanted $4,000 for three six-round bouts in Philadelphia. The promoter told Morris that he could leave his name and if that amount of money was found anywhere between Cape Cod and the Yellow Sea, he would be notified.

Game Was Called.
The game at Moyer last evening between Moyer and Wheeler was called at the beginning of the fifth inning when Wheeler had it 10 to 7. The umpire's reason for calling the game was that it was too dark to continue. The battery for Moyer was Swape and Glover; for Moyer Gilbert and Longenecker.

Water Street Beaten.
The South Side boys' team defeated Water street at the ball park yesterday 10 to 9 in ten innings. Water street tied the score in their half of the ninth, but South Side annexed a run in the tenth and blanked the Water street boys.

TENTH WINS

The Potter Trophy at the Mount Gretna Range.

MOUNT GRETTA, Pa., Aug. 5.—The skirmish and rapid fire matches for the Potter trophy, left uncompleted Thursday on account of darkness, were finished at noon yesterday. The following is the score of the regiments from the Second Brigade:

	Unknown Rapid Fire	Total
Tenth Regiment	101	101
Eighteenth Regt.	152	152
Seventeenth Regt.	152	152
Fourteenth Regt.	152	152

NATURE'S WARNING.

Connellsville People Must Recognize and Heed It.

Kidney ills come quietly—mysteriously.

But nature always warns you. Notice the kidney secretions. See if the color is unhealthy. If there are stings and sediment. Passages frequent, scanty, painful. It's time then to use Doan's Kidney Pills.

To ward off Bright's disease or diabetes. Doan's have done great work in this locality.

Mrs. L. A. Johnson 52 E. Craig street, Uniontown, Pa., says: "Last summer I had an attack of kidney trouble and I suffered intensely from backache and pains through my kidneys. Headaches and dizzy spells annoyed me and my kidneys were sluggish. The kidney secretions were unnatural and caused me much annoyance. Doan's Kidney Pills helped me at once and in a few days my trouble was relieved. My kidneys are now doing their work properly and I have no aches or pains. I highly recommend Doan's Kidney Pills in view of the benefit they have brought me."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-McMillan Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Wright-Metzler Co.

Screen That Fly Out of the House

He was born in a stable, cradled in filth and never had a bath in his life. He wants to share the food on your table and if he touches the food it is dangerous.

Size 16x33 in, sale 15c | Size 24x33 in, sale 20c
Size 18x33 in, sale 19c | to 30x37 in, sale ...30c

Basement Sale of Fine China

This is one of the big occasions in the China store and special preparations are made to have the sale broadly helpful, not alone in values given but in variety and desirability of selection. There are overlots, duplicate stocks, samples and styles not to be re-catalogued. One dollar will buy the usual two dollars worth.

English Porcelain, Blue

Iris Decoration.

50c 10-inch Plates, each .25c
75c 12-inch Plates, each .35c
$1.00 14-inch Plates, each .50c
$1.50 16-inch Plates, each .75c
$3.50 Large Tureens . . . $1.75
$1.25 Covered Dishes69c
$1.50 Chop Plates75c
20c Soup Plates10c
75c Sugars, each35c
65c Salad Dishes, each . . .30c
20c A. D. Coffee, each . . .10c

Pink Decoration.

$2.50 Breakfast Plates, doz. $1.49
$2.00 Salad Plates, doz. .99c
$1.50 Dinner Plates, doz. .75c
$1.50 B and D. Plates, doz. 75c
55c Sugars, each25c
75c Covered Butters, each .35c
55c Gravy Boats, each . . .25c
45c Round Dishes, each . . .25c
55c Oval Dishes, each . . .20c

Fancy China

25% Less

Sugars
Creams
Nut Bowls
Cracker Jars
Chocolate Sets
Trays
Syrups
Hot Pin Holders
Hair Receivers

All White China for

Decorating—Many

Pieces—Half

Price.

One Table Fancy China

Worth 25c, 10c Each

Summer Household Helps With New Low Prices.

A varied group of much needed housewares marked for instant disposal and conveniently placed in the basement store.

Ice Cream Freezers

3 qt., $2.75 value, . . . $1.98
4 qt., $3.50 value, . . . $2.48
6 qt., $4.25 value, . . . $2.98

Blue Lined Earthen Bake
Dishes, all sizes, . . . ½ LESS

$1.00 Potts Irons . . .75c set

Special reductions on lamps, vases, bric-a-brac, jardiners, go-carts, brass & copper ware.

One lot Tin Ware at Half Price.

Lisk Brand and retinned Kettles, Pans, Basins, etc.

One Table Enamelware At 10c Each.

Pitchers, pudding pans, tube cake pans, gallon buckets, quart measures, colanders, basins, jelly cake pans.

One Lot Etched Glasses At Half Price.

THE OUTLET PERPETRATED BY WALT McDUGALL

Revised Rules for Carrying Explosives

As a further step towards adding to the safety of railroad operations, the Pennsylvania railroad is calling to the attention of its employees and shippers the revised rules for the transportation of inflammable articles and acids. These are complementary to the rules of the Interstate Commerce Commission, which will become effective October 1st, 1911, for the transportation of explosives. The Pennsylvania Railroad Company has had these rules printed and distributed, with instructions that every employee concerned must obtain a copy of them and be governed accordingly.

These regulations for the transportation of dangerous articles have been formulated by Col. B. W. Dunn, U. S. A., Chief Inspector of the Bureau for the Safe Transportation of Explosives for the American Railway Association. They are based upon an Act of Congress approved May 30, 1908, and are designed to emphasize the special responsibility in the interest of public safety, that rests upon the shipper and the carrier. The particular purpose is that the shipper shall know the true characteristics of his shipments and familiarize himself with the requirements of the regulations in order that he may inform the carrier by use of prescribed certificates and labels.

The importance of the regulations may be realized from the fact that there are in this country more than 150 factories, the combined product of which in the course of a year is over 500,000,000 pounds of explosives. In 1906 a single railroad transported over 91,000,000 pounds of explosives and used for this purpose 19,000 cars.

Since the bureau referred to began its operations, there has been very little trouble from the transportation of explosives in the United States, and it is believed that when the work of the bureau has been fully developed, the danger from this source will have been reduced to a minimum.

The thoroughness with which this campaign for safety has been pursued may be indicated by the fact that special supervision is given not only to the transportation of powder, dynamite and other heavy explosives, but it is now provided that special care shall be pursued in the handling of any material that gives off inflammable vapor at or below a temperature of 80 degrees Fahrenheit; materials subject to spontaneous combustion; materials other than acids that are liable to cause accidents by friction, concussion, absorption of moisture, contact with organic matter and otherwise. Special rules also govern the handling of compressed gases of liquids, as well as a list of the more virulent acids and corrosive compounds.

Patronize those who advertise in this paper.

DR. BARNES
Physician and Specialist
200 a Visit in all General
Diseases, Special Diseases,
Acute and Chronic, Men's Diseases,
Special Diseases, Special Diseases,
Hours 9 to 6, Medicine furnished,
104 West Main Street,
CONNELLSVILLE, PA.